While police and firemen held a safety net below a rescue worker on the scaffold lowered it to a fifth floor window where Wright was taken to safety.

Secret Agents Praised by Ike

President Takes Part in Cornerstone Rites at CIA Building

Washington — President Eisenhower said today the government's intelligence agents are a mainstay of peace as well as national security.

The president paid his tribute in a talk at nearby Langley, Va., where he participated in cornerstone laying ceremonies at the new headquarters building of the central intelligence agency.

Eisenhower said America's fundamental aspiration is the preservation of peace.

To achieve that goal, the president said, the nation must have from its agents the picture of conditions, resources, requirements and attitudes in the world.

Important Task

"They are essential to the development of policy to further our long term national security and best interests," Eisenhower said.

Addressing himself then to the CIA officials and agents in his audience, the president added:

"To provide information of this kind is the task of the organization of which you are a part."

"Upon the quality of your work depends in large measure the success of our effort to further the nation's position in the international scene."

Eisenhower told the CIA personnel that the work in which they are engaged requires the highest order of dedication, ability, trustworthiness and selflessness. "To say nothing of the finest type of courage, whenever needed."

Legislators Open Difficult Session

Nelson, Lawmakers in Shadow Of 1960 Election Issues, Actions

Madison — Members of the Wisconsin legislature today returned to their statehouse desks for an adjourned session in other years short and expeditious, but this year appears to be long, difficult and painful.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson and leaders of Democratic and Republican caucuses in both houses met for nearly two hours late Monday to review a bundle of more than 65 measures held over from the regular session that adjourned last summer.

Their purpose was to weed out some of the "cats and dogs" — in legislative parlance — in the interests of saving time and controversy.

No Agreement

But they attempted to make no agreement. The respective party leaders will take up the holdover bills to their own caucuses, to see which can be deleted from the program of must action.

The prospect for a session of considerable duration arises not only out of the character of some of the unresolved issues before the law-makers, but out of the political organization of the law-making branch.

The assembly is securely under the control of the Democrats; Republicans are masters of the state senate.

As the 1960 election campaign year nears some of the political issues are becoming

Asians, Africans Don't Want Blast in Desert

BY TOM HOGE

United Nations, N. Y. — Another heated debate loomed in the U.N. today as a parade of Asian and African delegates lined up to protest France's plans to explode her first atomic bomb in the Sahara desert.

Ahmed Taibi, Benhima of Morocco was to begin the debate in the 82-nation political committee this afternoon. It was his government which proposed that the U.N. go on record opposing the French nuclear test, expected to take place in the near future.

Denies Danger

Benhima was expected to contend that the Sahara is not a no man's land and that no nation has the right to contaminate the area with nuclear blasts.

France's veteran disarmament expert, Jules Moch, was expected to reply that his government would ignore any U.N. resolution opposing its test plans. Moch reportedly was ready with a scientific report showing that the planned French test would not cause danger of radioactive contamination to any serious degree.

Authoritative sources said the French bomb has been ready for months but the tests had been delayed because the desert experimental station was not ready. The French now have fixed a date for the test, sources here said, but what it is could not be learned.

These sources said the French bomb has less explosive force than 100,000 tons of TNT but more than the American A-bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki in 1945. Those early bombs were the equivalent of approximately 20,000 tons of TNT; hydrogen bombs tested by the United States, Russia and Britain have been in the million-ton class.

Moch reportedly will tell the committee that France will renounce nuclear weapons tests the day the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union agree to ban production and use of such weapons.

Decision Expected On Writ to Halt Walkout

Xavier Cugat Says He Won $16,000 by Coaching in Contest

Told Wrong Story at First, Corrected It to Grand Jury

Washington — Orchestra Leader Xavier Cugat, the rumba king, told today how he won $16,000 as a coached contestant on the TV quiz program "The $64,000 Challenge."

As a witness before house TV quiz probes, the Cuban rhythm maker also testified that he told an incorrect story to the New York district attorney about his role.

Cugat insisted, however, that he later gave a full and honest account to the New York grand jury that investigated quiz show rigging. The district attorney's investigators, he added, had not asked him all the details initially.

In the Latin accent familiar to TV and radio audiences, Cugat told a house investigating subcommittee he went on "The $64,000 Challenge" solely for publicity purposes.

He won $16,000 on three appearances on the quiz program in June of last year. Volunteering the information he is in the 76 per cent income tax bracket, Cugat said his personal proceeds went mostly for income taxes.

Told Not to Worry

Questioned by Robert W. Lishman, committee counsel, Cugat said "I was told not to worry" about missing questions on the program and making a fool of himself.

Asked when he became aware the show was "not an honest contest of knowledge and skill," Cugat said:

"When the producer first came to my apartment... and said he wanted to talk to me... I learned that the questions asked me in my

See-Saw Ballot Fight Renewed

No Sign of Break In Deadlock Between Turkey and Poland

United Nations, N. Y. — Poland and western-backed Turkey continued their see-saw election battle today as the U.N. resumed its efforts to break the stubborn deadlock over a seat in the security council.

No break was in sight. The general assembly plunged into a new round of balloting after two weeks of private talks. The voting followed the same pattern this morning as it did on Oct. 19, when Turkey and Poland alternately moved it and out of the lead.

On today's first ballot—the thirty-second of the contest—Poland received 39 votes and Turkey 38. On the next ballot Turkey moved back into the lead with a vote of 41 to 38 for Poland. Turkey had been in front when the voting was suspended two weeks ago.

Both candidates were far below the required two-thirds majority.

All efforts to find a compromise plan appeared to have failed, and neither candidate showed any inclination to withdraw. The United States said it still was firmly behind Turkey. The Soviet bloc continued to push for Poland's election.

On the thirty-fourth ballot, Turkey edged up to 43 and Poland got 35.

California Police Hunt Man Who Gave Tots Laxative Pills

Fremont, Calif. — Police hunted today for Dr. William V. Shyne, a dentist they say gave candy-coated laxative pills to youngsters on Halloween.

None of the 16 moppets who patrolmen say got the pills was hospitalized, but six who ate them suffered nausea and diarrhea, or both.

Tests showed the pills contained bitter aloes, a strong purgative.

Police Inspectors Lee Reiman and Robert Plummer searched unsuccessfully for Dr. Shyne yesterday, both at his office and home.

They carried a warrant for his arrest, charging him with the misdemeanor offenses of outraging public decency and unlawful dispensing of medicine.

Police reported more than 450 of the pills were found in unopened Halloween loot after a check of 250 homes.

Denies He Asked Van Doren for Cash

New York — TV Producer Albert Freedman denied today to the New York Journal-American that he ever sought $5,000 from Charles Van Doren.

The newspaper obtained the statement in a telephone interview with Freedman in Mexico City.

U. S. to Price Indian Lands For Settlement

Kaukauna Part of Tract in Dispute With Emigre Tribes

Washington — The Indian Claims commission was asked Monday to put an 1832 price-tag of at least $1.25 an acre on nearly four million acres of land which Wisconsin Indians claim was taken from them by the federal government.

M. S. Chapman and Ely M. Aaron, attorneys for the Onondaga and some other tribes, contended the value of the land as of 1832 depended upon its location, topography, prospects for settlements and the timber upon it.

James J. Manogue, justice department attorney, said the number of acres to be paid for is in dispute. He said 550.

Last Civil War Vet Weakens

Houston — A doctor said today, Walter Williams, last surviving veteran of the Civil war, is growing weaker. The Confederate veteran still is taking nourishment, however.

Williams, who will be 117 Nov. 14, has been under an oxygen tent almost constantly the last week.

"I wouldn't say his time is real soon but you can never tell with a man his age," the doctor said. "I will say he seems to get a little weaker every day but of course that's to be expected with a 116-year-old man with pneumonia."

Legal Arguments Likely To be Concluded Today But No Time Limit Set

Washington — (AP) — Argument began before the supreme court today in the hearing that will determine whether the half-million striking Steelworkers must go back to work under injunction.

The nine justices stepped up to the bench at 11:03 a.m. to face a courtroom packed with attorneys, newsmen, and spectators. Outside a line of probably 300 persons stood waiting in the hope of getting in.

Arthur J. Goldberg, chief counsel of the United Steelworkers' union, opened the argument, attacking legality of the injunction issued by Federal Judge Herbert P. Sog in Pittsburgh Oct. 21.

Solicitor Gen. J. Lee Rankin had the assignment to answer for the government.

Shortly before the start of the special hearing, the office of the court's clerk said John C. Bane, Pittsburgh attorney, would argue briefly on behalf of the steel companies.

Strike Background

Under court rules, Goldberg opened with an account of the background of the strike, 113 days old today, and what was happened in lower courts.

At the opening of the hearing Chief Justice Warren said no time limit was set on either side.

At the same time, the chief justice said the court felt the parties would take no longer time than was necessary to present the issues properly.

At issue, in arguments before the court, was the validity of an injunction already issued under emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley law.

UAR to Pay for Flooded Land

Cairo Paper Reports $42 Million Offer to Sudan Government

Cairo — The United Arab Republic will pay Sudan 15 million pounds ($42 million) for Sudanese lands in the Wadi Halfa area, that will be flooded by the Aswan high dam, the newspaper 'Al-Ahram' reported today.

The paper said the U.A.R. and her southern neighbor also have agreed that Sudan will get almost two-thirds of the Nile river water which the huge dam in southern Egypt will keep from flowing to waste in the Mediterranean.

Vast Area Affected

The reported agreement removes the last major obstacle to the start of work on the Aswan dam. Sudan in turn has been unable to get a world bank loan for her proposed Roseires dam until her differences with the U.A.R. were settled.

The water reserve behind the dam, Al-Ahram said, will flood a vast area extending more than 227 miles behind the dam, or about 100 miles into Sudanese territory.

Illinois Area Rocked by Blast at Dynamite Plant

Herrin, Ill. — A tremendous explosion rocked a dynamite production plant near here today, rattling windows eight miles away. One workman was reported killed.

The blast ripped the dynamite division of Olin Mathieson Chemical corporation, eight miles south of here in the tiny southern Illinois community of Ordell.

The plant put out an emergency call for fire trucks and ambulances, but when units from four neighboring towns sped up to the gate, they were turned back. A guard said they were not needed.

The blast scene cannot be seen from the gate. A fence surrounds the entire area.

Exiles in Drive Against Castro

New York — Cuban exiles in the United States and Latin America will launch an all-out campaign tonight to overthrow the Cuban government of Fidel Castro, the New York Mirror reported today.

The newspaper in a dispatch from Miami said a provisional government is being organized to lead the campaign, which will begin with the parachuting of sabotage groups into Cuba.

Dr. Emilio Nunez Portuondo, former Cuban ambassador to the United Nations and now an exile in this country, will be named president of the provisional government, according to the Mirror.

Nunez Portuondo was not immediately available for comment on the report.

Gorilla Succumbs at Milwaukee County Zoo

Milwaukee — Sambo, the larger and more vigorous of the Milwaukee County Zoo's famed pair of gorillas, died unexpectedly Monday.

Sambo, who came here with Samson as a baby 10 years ago, became ill last month. He had appeared to be responding to massive doses of antibiotics.

More Cold, Snow in Wednesday Forecast

Wisconsin — Occasional rain south and rain or snow north tonight. Wednesday rain and windy, with snow mixed northwest and extreme north. Outlook for Thursday: Mostly cloudy and continued cool with snow ending.

Appleton — Temperatures for the 24-hour period ending 9 a.m. today: High 42, low 39. Temperature at 10 a.m. today 49, with discomfort index at 41. Barometer reading 29.60 inches with wind southwest 16 miles an hour.

Sun sets at 4:42 p.m., rises Wednesday at 6:34 a.m.; moon sets at 7:25 p.m.

'Sound Only' Nixon Tickets Available

A limited number of tickets have been made available to Fox Cities residents who want to hear the sound part of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's talk Friday, Nov. 13.

A public address system has been installed to pipe the sound to Stansbury theater in the Lawrence college Music-Drama center.

The special arrangement was made because of the great demand for tickets for Nixon's appearance as the second guest in the "Appleton and the World Community" series being sponsored by Lawrence college and the Post-Crescent.

Tickets to the music-drama center for the sound portion of the Nixon program can be obtained free at the Post-Crescent's switchboards in the Post-Crescent's Neenah-Menasha and Appleton offices Wednesday morning on a first-come, first-served basis.

5 States to Elect Governors, Solons

No Contests Fought on National Issues; but Politicians Hope to Spot Trends for Presidential Vote

By The Associated Press

Kentucky — Picks a governor, with Democrat Bert T. Combs running against Republican John M. Robison, Jr. Combs favored, but a split with retiring Gov. A. B. Chandler may hurt his chances.

Philadelphia — Elects a mayor, with incumbent Democrat Richardson Dilworth favored to beat Republican Harold E. Stassen.

Mississippi — Democrat Ross Barnett unopposed for governorship.

Boston, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Salt Lake City — Elect mayors; campaigns largely on local issues.

None of the contests was fought on national issues, but politicians hope to spot trends for the 1960 presidential year.

The two liveliest contests were for governor of Kentucky and mayor of Philadelphia. In the latter battle, one-time Republican wonderboy Harold E. Stassen is making what could be his final bid for elective office. He is expected to lose to incumbent Democrat Richardson Dilworth.

In Kentucky, Democrat Bert T. Combs is running against Republican John M. Robison, Jr., a former congressman. Combs is favored, but an in-traparty squabble with retiring Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler may make it a close race.

Governor Unopposed. Mississippi also elects a governor, but segregationist lawyer Ross Barnett is unopposed. He won the run-off primary in August.

State legislators are being chosen in New Jersey, New York, Kentucky, Virginia, and Mississippi. Only 11 vacancies are being filled in New York. In Indiana, 108 municipal elections are being held. Democrats won 72 of 104 city elec-

Kennedy Urges Americans to Meet Challenge

Los Angeles — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) has urged Americans "to muster a new national conscience, a new sense of public purpose" in meeting Russia's challenge to the free world.

So far, he thinks the people have fallen short and, he adds, the stakes are too high: in a few years the world may be all free or all slave.

"The harsh facts of the matter are that we have gone soft: physically, mentally, spiritually soft," he said. "We are in danger of losing our will to fight, to sacrifice and to endure."

Kennedy spoke last night at a $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson day dinner in Beverly Hills.

He cited statistics on collaboration by American war prisoners in Korea and the rejection of nearly one out of every two Americans for military service as evidence that the people are "losing that old-fashioned Spartan devotion to duty, honor and country."

Kennedy, on a 4-day tour of California, spoke earlier in the day to turnaway student crowds on the UCLA and USC campuses.

Milk Co-ops to Negotiate for Higher Prices

Shipments to be Held From Chicago Dairies Unwilling to Pay

Madison — Representatives of 23 cooperatives supplying 90 per cent of Chicago's milk voted Monday to open negotiations for higher prices and to withhold shipments from dairies unwilling to pay more for bottling milk.

Avery Vose, Antioch, Ill., chairman of the group, said those attending the closed meeting decided to work through the Federated Dairy cooperatives as bargaining agent. Paul Affeldt, Sparta, is president of the co-op.

Plans to withhold milk shipments were outlined at an Oct. 21 meeting in Chicago called by the Pure Milk association.

Vose said he was assured at Monday's meeting that sufficient facilities would be available to divert normal milk shipments from dairies which declined to pay higher prices.

"We haven't talked of milk dumping at all," Vose said. Several weeks ago PMA adopted a resolution calling for action to obtain a $1.50 a hundred boost in milk prices from Chicago's 150 dairies.

Vose said price was not discussed at Monday's meeting but hinted demands would be somewhat less than the PMA goal. Producers now get about $3.50 a hundred for Grade A milk.

Vose said all milk withheld from dairies would be channeled into manufactured dairy products.

Vose said negotiations with dairy representatives probably will begin sometime before Jan. 1 when a previously agreed upon 25 cents a hundred premium paid by most of the city's dairies will expire.

American Motors To Boost Body Output 35 Pct.

Detroit — American Motors today announced plans to boost body production 35 per cent within the next seven months by leasing and converting the Simmons steel furniture plant in Kenosha, Wis., to car body building.

George Romney, president of American Motors, said the conversion will for a year off its expansion timetable. "We are not deferring new building plans," he declared, "but we can't wait for them."

American will lease the two million square foot building from the Kenosha Harbor Development corporation, which recently purchased the factory from the Simmons company.

Romney said the project will cost $14,500,000 and will boost daily body production from 1,900 to more than 2,500. He said progress now is being made on a $17,500,000 expansion of six cylinder, axle and machining operations at the main Kenosha Rambler plant.

Frustrated Singer

Marletta, Okla. — An inebriated entertainer provided a private show for Love county officers. He entered the unlocked sheriff's office—left open for highway patrolmen's use—and gave out with song and chatter over the 2-way radio. The happy fellow paid a $62 fine.

Three Die in State Crash

Highway Toll Climbs to 678 For This Year

Milwaukee — The deaths of three persons in a Buffalo county accident Monday raised Wisconsin's 1959 highway toll to 678 compared with 680 on this same day a year ago.

Adolph Ness, 61, Modena, and Mr. and Mrs. Johannes Gerike, Augusta, were fatally injured Monday night when their automobiles and a tractor-corn picker pulling two wagons collided. The accident occurred on Highway 37 about eight miles south of Mondovi.

Ness, alone in his car, died instantly. Mrs. Gerike, 57, died at the scene and her husband, age 66, died on the way to a hospital.

Authorities said both autos apparently tried to avoid a collision with the tractor and wagons. Merlin Mueller, 30, Mondovi, was uninjured in the crash.

Donald Rolie, 29, Dubuque, Iowa, died Monday night of the injuries he suffered Sunday in an accident near Hazel Green in Lafayette county.

Keith H. Freisinger, 30, also of Dubuque, a passenger in the car with Rolie, was killed in the crash.

Also listed Tuesday was the death of Mrs. Dwight Fowell, 20, of rural Richland Center, who was the third victim of a 2-car head-on crash on Highway 14, four miles west of Richland Center Friday night.

She died Sunday night at a Richland Center hospital. Killed in the crash were her 14-month-old son, Sidney, and Edward Swanson, 47, of La Crosse.

Predicts Possibility Of Sending Missiles On Mercy Errands

Philadelphia — A satellite engineer said today that within a decade it will be possible to send guided missiles "beam riding" to any point in the world on errands of mercy.

Robert P. Haviland, satellite engineer for General Electric's missile and space vehicle department, said that improved guidance systems will enable a re-entry vehicle to "ride in" on any radio beacon and land at a predetermined point.

"The missile 'beam riding' principle," Haviland added, "is not unlike the system that airplanes have used for years to find airports in heavy overcast. It will be possible to develop a system whereby any commercial or airport radio transmitter can be used to guide the missile in."

Man Found Guilty of Killing Cop

San Francisco — George Cole, convicted of second-degree murder, faces a 5 year to life sentence for the shooting of San Francisco Police Sgt. Joseph Lacey.

A jury of seven women and five men ruled last night that Cole, 32, was guilty of second degree murder and assault with a deadly weapon. He had been charged with murder and attempted robbery in a bar Dec. 30, 1956.

The district attorney has asked a first degree murder conviction, which in California can be life or death, depending upon the finding by the same trial jury.

Thomas Hamrick, 28, Cole's accomplice who at his own trial named Cole as the trigger man, is serving a life sentence in San Quentin prison. He refused to testify in the trial last week.

Cole was arrested in Des Moines, Iowa, in July by FBI agents who traced him through drugstore prescriptions used by Yvonne Conley, 45. The couple had been residing there, Cole operating a service station under an alias.

Cole previously served time in San Quentin and in the Missouri penitentiary for armed robbery and auto theft.

Assistant Dist. Attorney Francis Mayer had demanded the gas chamber for Cole.

Van Doren's Future Plans are Uncertain

Resigns Columbia University Teaching Post, Suspended From Commentator's Job

Washington — Charles Van Doren, out of one job and suspended from another, faced today a future clouded by his story of deceiving the public on a rigged television quiz show.

Within hours of his public testimony, Columbia university accepted Van Doren's offer to resign as an assistant professor of English. The action by the university's board of trustees was made effective immediately.

The National Broadcasting company, which suspended Van Doren with pay last month from a $50,000-a-year post as commentator, said it was withholding comment for the present. The suspension was made subject to the outcome of the congressional hearings.

Van Doren himself was uncertain of his future plans. "I hope to be a teacher," he told newsmen. "I think I would be better at that than anything else."

Public Reaction
To some extent, at least, Van Doren's future may depend on public reaction to his emotion-packed story of accepting help while winning fame as a scholar.

In his closing arguments Friday, the prosecutor asserted that Cole shot the off-duty policeman during an attempted holdup.

The defense argued that Cole was in a drunken stupor and irresponsible.

Might Have Ridden To Ground in Plane Crash, Pilot Says

Aircraft Destroys Home in Ohio Suburb Killing 2 Young Children, Mother Critical

Dayton, Ohio — The pilot of a jet fighter that slammed into a house and killed two children says "If I were blessed with foresight, I might have ridden it into the ground."

"You can't know how I feel about the aircraft going into a house," Bradbury the pilot said after the crash yesterday.

The pilot, Maj. James Bradbury, 34, the father of a small daughter, bailed out of his plane.

But air force officials said he did all he could, staying with the supersonic F-104 Starfighter—which had an explosion and lost power—until it was out of control and 500 feet below recommended minimum ball-out altitude.

In the meantime, they arranged to fly Mrs. Grace Shoup, 34, mother of the two little victims, to a Texas military medical center specializing in burn treatment today.

Clothes on Fire
She ran screaming from the burning building, a converted brick school, with her clothes on fire. Clyde Allen, a neighbor, grabbed a blanket from his house, wrapped Mrs. Shoup in it and smothered the flames.

The house, which is in rural Greene county near the Dayton suburb of Kettering, was destroyed. Mrs. Shoup's daughters Lori Ann, 2, and Lynne Marie, 12, were killed. Lynne was home because her overcrowded school has half-day sessions.

Two other children, Billy, 10, and Tommy, 8, were in school, and Mrs. Shoup's husband John was at work at the National Cash Register company in Dayton.

Mrs. Shoup was rushed to Miami Valley hospital here in critical condition. Attendants later approved the air force plan to fly her to Brooke medical center at San Antonio, Texas, today.

Officials at Wright-Patterson air force base here—where the jet was taking off when it failed—arranged for a medical team from Brooke to fly here early today and return with Mrs. Shoup to San Antonio.

Bradbury landed a half-mile north of the crash scene and was not hurt. He estimated that he used the ejection mechanism—which fires the seat (in this particular model of the F104) downward from the cockpit—at 1,000 feet.

"I couldn't control it any more as far as direction was concerned," he said. "When I left, it looked good. . . I saw it make a slight change going in."

The Shoups have lived in the house 11 years.

Florida Patrol To Stop Flights

Miami, Fla. — In an attempt to stop illegal flights from Florida fields to Cuba, a fresh battalion of federal agents has fanned out over the state's 200 small airfields.

"We've got a few ideas — a few tricks in the bag," said James F. Green of Washington D. C., assistant commissioner in charge of the border patrol.

The justice department, at the request of President Eisenhower, beefed up its border patrol force in Florida.

Included among the airfields which agents visited Monday was one at Pompano Beach, the jumping off spot two weeks ago for a leaflet-dropping mission to Cuba.

Approve U-Shape For Edison School

Board Questions Storage Space, Kitchen, Parking Lot, Paneling

The new Edison school will be a 2-story, U-shaped building, with the second story a complete square, the school board decided at a special meeting Monday night.

The board got its first look at sketches made by Architect Raymond N. LeVe and Associates, and after LeVe makes a few corrections, it indicated the plans would be approved. He estimated building cost at $872,073.

The 570-student school will have 16 primary and intermediate classrooms, three kindergarten rooms, an enclosed court and play area for kindergartners, an all-purpose room with a stage, a gymnasium, locker and shower rooms for boys and girls, crafts room, library, administrative and nursing offices and several storage areas. Main entrance would be on Meade street.

Revisions Planned

Parts of the building that will be revised include the kitchen, which now measures 25 by 30 feet but will be made smaller; a 3,000-square-foot basement storage area for equipment, which either will be eliminated or revised; a driving ramp to the basement, which either will be eliminated or revised; and exterior color panels, such as those on Madison school, which the board would prefer in subdued tones.

Largest bone of contention was the basement storage area. Because it must be served by a ramp, the building has to be set back 35 feet from the North street sidewalk, lessening play area on the crowded Edison site.

Mrs. Myrl N. Davis, board vice president said: "It seems to me the idea is to build the school for the truck and not the kids," Mrs. Davis also hit the teachers' parking lot included on the north side of the building.

"We can hardly be expected to work in a parking area with the limits of space," she said. In all of the discussion preceding the Edison project, it was explained adjacent properties had to be purchased to make room for the school and playground, she pointed out.

"I don't think we should sacrifice playground for storage and parking space," she said.

Victor Sumnicht, board member, said the city should build a central school supply warehouse rather than spreading school materials around among its various buildings. Storage areas have been included in the new Huntley and Madison schools.

Electric Heating

The board also asked LeVe to investigate the possibilities of heating the school electrically rather than with gas. Electric heating would eliminate certain maintenance costs, LeVe said, but he did not know how the heating costs would compare.

The first floor would contain offices, three kindergarten rooms, seven primary rooms and the gym and all-purpose rooms. Second floor would contain nine classrooms, the library and the girls' locker room.

Board members criticized building a large kitchen between the gym and all-purpose rooms. Dr. A. Neil McLeod said a large kitchen would be a waste of space, since it would be used as a coffee and doughnut center, not for preparing meals. LeVe said he would reduce the size of the kitchen.

Covered Play Area

The enclosed court will be used as a kindergarten play area, with access to all the kindergarten rooms and to the main play area to the south. One section of it will be covered by part of the second story, giving a covered play area for use in bad weather.

The exterior of the building will be of brick, glass and porcelain enamel panels, resembling the Madison school. It would contain 64,598 square feet and be 19 feet from the present north sidewalk on Eldorado street, and 35 feet from the present Meade and North street sidewalks.

The board will ask the city council school advisory committee to meet with it next Monday to look over the plans. The architect's contract then will be turned over to the city clerk and mayor for signing.

Recommend Pay Hike

Two Goodland field maintenance men were recommended Monday by the city council's finance committee for pay increases amounting to $200 for the season next year. Councilmen will vote on the matter Wednesday night.

This is about what the new Edison school will look like from the south. The wall to the left faces N. Meade street. There is an enclosed courtyard visible about in the middle of the south wall of the building. The court will be the kindergarten play area. The second story is a complete square. The gymnasium and all-purpose room will be in the east wing of the building, classrooms on the other three sides. Building costs will total an estimated $872,073.

Put on Probation For Murder Plot

Oconomowoc — Mrs. Margie Pfeiffer, the 28-year-old mother who conspired with a Milwaukee square dance caller to kill her husband, was placed on probation for five years Monday.

Municipal Judge George Johnson, in ordering probation for the Oconomowoc woman, described her as a tool of Edward Dunn, 43, who has been sentenced to 15 years in the state prison for attempted murder.

According to testimony at Dunn's trial, the Milwaukeean tried to strangle Clyde Pfeiffer with a wire noose. The attempt failed when the wire broke. Dunn and Mrs. Pfeiffer admitted that they were having an affair.

County Agent in Hospital After Coronary Attack

Chilton — Orrin Meyer, Calumet county agent, is being treated at Calumet Memorial hospital for a coronary seizure he suffered Sunday morning.

As Member of CAB

Washington — H. H. Denny resigned Monday from the civil aeronautics board, effective Nov. 15. President Eisenhower chose Whitney Gilliland, now chairman of the foreign claims commission, to succeed Denny.

Denny wrote Eisenhower that he had signified his intention some time ago to leave the CAB. Eisenhower thanked him for a valuable contribution.

Gilliland, chosen for the remainder of a term expiring Dec. 31, was given a recess appointment. A formal nomination subject to senate confirmation will go to congress when it reconvenes in January.

Teachers' Insurance

Action on group life insurance for Appleton teachers will be taken Monday night, the board of education decided. Action originally had been scheduled for a special meeting last night, but was delayed because completed statistics about the plan were not available. The board will ask the Appleton Education association how many teachers will subscribe, so exact costs can be determined.

9-Cent Cut Unchanged By Committeemen

Budgetmakers Vote $650 to Little Loop For Upgrading Umps

The city council's 1960 budget committee Monday did not change the outlook for a 9-cent cut per $1,000 of assessed value in Appleton's city tax rate.

The committee also recommended appropriation of $650 to Appleton Little League.

Referred to committee of the whole discussion whether to include in the budget some $23,000 to defray interest on bond issues expected early next year.

Decided against earmarking funds for purchase of two school sites.

144 Games

The Little League sought $720 to upgrade quality of umpires at 144 games next year of its league and its connected Babe Ruth league.

Recreation Director Elmer W. Grover told the committee he expects the $3 per plate umpire and $2 per base umpire schedule of the Little League will force him to raise the pay of umpires at industrial league games. Grover now pays industrial loop umpires $3.25 a game.

Committeemen discussed for a time adding between $300 and $500 to Grover's budget so that he could give his umpires more money, but took no action.

$1,335,000 in Bonds

The $23,000 to defray interest was based upon about $1,335,000 in bonds the city expects to sell early next year, possibly as early as April, City Clerk Broehm said.

School Supt. John P. Mann believes new Edison school plans will be ready for bids in February and the cost probably will not exceed $1 million, Broehm reported.

The outlook for April bonding for the school, Broehm said, means the city will have to pay about $17,500 interest on a $1 million issue next year.

Then Earnings Up

The $23,000 also would defray similar interest costs stemming from the $225,000 south side swimming pool

Preble Classes Continue During Fake Bomb Check

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Preble High school classes were not interrupted Monday afternoon during a methodical search on the heels of a telephone fake bomb threat, county law authorities and school officials reported later.

An unidentified caller told Green Bay police around noon Monday that a bomb had been planted in the Preble school.

City police immediately relayed information on the call to the sheriff's traffic department whose personnel conducted a search of the school building with the Preble fire department. Nothing unusual was discovered.

A new system used by police to trace telephone calls placed the origin of the threat call as an outdoor telephone booth on S. Main boulevard in Preble. A witness reported seeing a boy inside the booth, apparently placing a call, about the time the threat was heard, while two other boys waited outside. County authorities' search of the neighborhood failed to turn up the boys, however.

Investigation of the case was being continued today.

reader to see the bond and interest statement.

Broehm said he was asked to have the published budget show true school costs and this is the procedure advised by City Atty. Jury.

Birth Record

The following births were reported by Fox Cities area hospitals today:

St. Elizabeth: Sons to: Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Gebhardt, route 2, Hilbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Geraden, 1523 W. Eighth street. Son Sunday, not a daughter as previously reported, to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nett, 419 E. Wilson Avenue.

Appleton Memorial: Daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Justman, 822 E. Fremont street.

A son was born Monday to Lt. and Mrs. John F. Hilgenberg at Elmendorf Air Force base, Anchorage, Alaska. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Zuelzke, Kaukauna, and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hilgenberg, Kaukauna.

New London Community: Sons to: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Macklin, 309 Waupaca street, New London.

Mr. and Mrs. James Edminster, Manawa. Daughters to: Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Garvey, route 1, Hortonville.

Kaukauna Community: Son to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meyerhofer, 333 W. Third street, Kaukauna.

Fair Asks Money for Reserve Fund

Need Cash Balance To Finance Acts, County Board Told

The Outagamie Fair association complained Monday to the county board that it doesn't have enough reserve funds to adequately operate the county fair each August.

Michael Burns, association president, asked the county board for $2,500 more than the $5,000 budgeted for 1960.

Last year, Burns also asked the county board for $2,500 more for a building, and the board budgeted $7,500.

In asking help in maintaining a cash reserve to finance acts for the fair, Burns said Brown county allowed a $20,000 reserve, Winnebago county $30,000.

The association has a $686 reserve, Burns said. The reserve was cut by a $3,000 payment on the association's mortgage on its new junior fair building, which now totals $12,000. Asked about the value of the fair property, Burns said he did not know but $120,000 in insurance was carried on buildings.

Other Debts?

At the time the county and the association entered into the present agreement in 1955, by which the county was given a 35 per cent equity, the value was set at $105,000.

Asked if other debts existed, Burns said none did. However, it was brought out that rental payments for building use throughout the year is paid holders of bonds issued in 1924, when the present grandstand was built. Originally, $30,000 in bonds was issued and the present balance is somewhat less than $20,000, Burns estimated.

Burns pointed out the bonds are not a debt, but represent the bondholders equity in the property — in other words, he explained, if the property were sold, the county would get 35 per cent, the bond holders 65 per cent, both after payment of the existing mortgage.

Board members took no action on Burns' request.

Three Tipsy Drivers Fined

One Involved in Accident Sunday On Highway 45

Three Fox Cities men pleaded guilty this morning to charges of drunken driving, and their drivers' licenses were revoked for a year. They are:

Edgar W. Lautenschlager, 45, of 820 N. Meade street.

David A. Martindale, 24, of 210 Bond street, Neenah.

Edward H. Wendt, Jr., 31, of 1707 S. Jackson street.

Lautenschlager was fined $150 and sentenced to 20 days in jail. He was arrested about 2:10 p.m. Sunday about a mile west of County Trunk T on Highway 45 in the town of Hortonville. He refused the drunkometer test.

In Wrong Lane

Police said Lautenschlager was traveling east on Highway 45 in the wrong lane and his auto collided with a car driven by Eugene Kissinger, 21, route 5, Oshkosh. Kissinger was hospitalized in New London.

Lautenschlager had been convicted previously of drunken driving, but the court was not told when or where. The 20-day sentence was given because of the previous conviction.

Martindale was fined $100 by Neenah Police Justice A. P. Arpin. He was arrested at 1:10 a.m. today on N. Commercial street, Neenah, while driving without headlights and at a high rate of speed. He tested .21 on the drunkometer. A rating of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

Wendt was fined $125. He was arrested Sunday at Badger and Mason streets by state police, who received a complaint he was driving fast and erratically. He tested .21 on the drunkometer.

Catlin, Moratz Photos in Capitol

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Sizeable framed portraits of Mark Catlin, Jr., Appleton, and Robert Moratz, Shawano, have been hung in the assembly wing of the state capitol.

Both houses have traditionally so honored their former presiding officers. Catlin and Moratz, Republicans, served as speakers of the Wisconsin assembly in 1955 and 1957, respectively.

Name Some of Stars For 'Grammy Awards'

Nov. 29 Telecast to Feature 'Live' 10 of 12 Top '59 Recording Artists

BY JINGO

Ella Fitzgerald, Bobby Darin, Duke Ellington, Shelley Berman, Jimmy Driftwood and the Mormon Tabernacle choir have agreed to recreate their award-winning recordings on NBC-TV's "Grammy Awards" Sunday night, Nov. 29.

Jingo

Between them, they've received 15 of 175 nominations for 34 Grammy awards voted upon in secret balloting recently by members of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences. Winners' names were not revealed.

This first telecast of the record industry's awards will be hosted by Meredith Willson, the "Music Man" composer. It will feature live performances by 10 of 12 winners whose records are most adaptable to re-creation.

What Shall I Do Now, Mama?

This is another of a series of articles from Harry Golden's latest bestseller,

The young people of America are having a tough time having a good time.

This boredom began when he was a 6-year-old tot and asked, "What shall I do now, Mama?" And all around him were trains, teddy bears, and television.

How did we get along without the movies, TV, and all the wonderful toys that are available today?

The teen-agers who are having such a rough time of it trying to amuse themselves merely reflect the boredom which surrounds us all.

Visit a nice subdivision home of some young friends and they proudly show you their new washer, dryer, electric coffee pot, electric frying pan, electric toaster, electric deep freeze, electric barbecue, and electric deep fryer. All in all, counting the house, furniture, and new car, they pay interest on $25,000. They both work and so they hire a baby sitter for Junior.

God bless his bored little soul. Maybe they wouldn't be so bored if they had to throw a few sticks on a fire for the barbecue, and perhaps, even slap a non-electric frying pan on the electric range, but this would be standing in the way of progress or whatever it is that is making everybody so nervous, and creating our crackling, sizzling, steaming civilization of stomp, stomp, stomp, and sleeping pills. And tomorrow is another day to face up to the question: "What shall I do now, Mama?"

Arise, Sir Taxpayer

I never met a man who thought he should pay no tax. What most people want apparently is some say in the matter of how they are taxed, not how much they should pay. In truth, I think many a man slyly enjoys paying his taxes.

In reality, none of it is his tax money. Out of his $100 a week, his business firm deducts $21.20 which it sends off to the Internal Revenue. Our man never had that $21.20 to spend. Paying it involves no sacrifice or budgeting on his part. When he got the job, the personnel director told him it paid $100 a week and right away he knew, if he wasn't an imbecile, that he made $79.80.

Why continue the pretense? Well, it isn't all pretense. Our man has a say in government spending; he helps produce the goods and profits which contribute to the economy. And out of his $79.80 he does pay property and sales and luxury taxes. These taxes make him an integral part of the democratic system. The real reason for letting him think that the $21.20 is his is that this delusion cannot help but make him a better citizen.

This is where the real joy of paying taxes comes in. You're footing your share of the bill. More than that. If you've got it in America, you pay. In Italy this may or may not be so. I understand that an Italian movie star whose share of the profits from one movie alone could buy and sell the Carolina Islands and a couple of printings of Only, in America several times over declared her income for tax purposes as $23,811. Blinking at the tax assessment in France, is so endemic that in the new constitution De Gaulle empowered revenue agents to add so many thousands of francs to a family's income. If they have a maid, so many more if they drive two cars, so many more if they own a race horse. Liberte. Fraternite. Egalite.

In America, of course, property owners have always known what taxes are. And here, if anywhere, appear the inequities. The sixty-five-year-old widow, whose taxes on a two-bedroom house have quadrupled because out in suburbia all those young-marrieds want the most expensive terrazzo floor in the new school, is victimized.

It ought to be up to the builder who makes a big profit on those four hundred split-level shacks to support or provide the new school, just as many intelligent townships say it's up to him to provide the sidewalks. He passes along such costs, of course, to the people who use the facilities — those who buy the homes.

Still, all in all, the American and British systems of taxation are the best. The British system, is, I believe, slightly better, since they reward you for paying big taxes. The reward is knighthood. Laurence Olivier and John Gielgud, two of the greatest actors in the world, pay their bills for trial by jury, constitutional government, and free education. And the queen rewards them with knighthood. The United States ought to try something like that. Either give the man a knighthood, or let him throw out the first ball at the World Series.

The Church Kitchen

Today when the rabbi or the Protestant clergyman shows you through his newly constructed edifice he shows you the kitchens first. Kitchen? In a church? A caterer tells me that the new churches and temples have better equipped kitchens than some of the biggest restaurants in town.

Five hundred years hence, people will dig up the churches and the temples built during the past ten years and they will conclude that this American decade was the most pious era in world history. But the steam tables, bakeries, and barbecue pits will puzzle them. This may send them off on a brand-new line of research — to find out the nature of the sacrifices we performed. (Copyright, 1959)

This is the Menomonee interchange on new Interstate Highway 94, the first 59 miles of which were opened between Eau Claire and Hudson last week. The 4-lane section runs directly east and west, connecting to Highway 12, which parallels it roughly, and Highway 25 running north and south. South is at the top of the photograph. The few houses at the far left are in the city. The cloverleaf is the first complete one in the state. Menomonee officials are seeking a state office building which they propose for either the top left or right in the photo.

Super Highway Brings Fear, Hopes to West Wisconsin

BY JACK HOLZHUETER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menomonee — Motorists whizzing down the new Interstate 94 highway, of which 59 miles between Eau Claire and Hudson were dedicated Thursday, will see Wisconsin scenery and prosperity as they have never been viewed before.

Marshland, hills, rivers, woods, lakes, small cities and prosperous farms are spread out in a wondrous, pictorial array — all displayed at 65 miles an hour.

But behind the scenery there lies a story of uncertainty and unrest among the citizens of the nine small towns that have been by-passed and now are off the mainstream of traffic between Chicago and Minneapolis for the first time in nearly 100 years.

Economic Question
What will happen to the service stations, restaurants, motels, hotels and drug stores along old Highway 12? How will easier access to the booming Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul affect commerce and transportation in these Wisconsin cities whose economy and industry is dwindling steadily? And where will the state build its new western Wisconsin office building?

All these questions have perplexed businessmen, local officials and residents since the highway was contemplated. Now they are fast upon them.

The first town to feel the squeeze probably will be Menomonee, home of Stout State college, 60 miles east of St. Paul, and perhaps best known because of a disastrous tornado that ripped north of it June 4, 1938, killing 28 persons in Dunn county, of which it is the county seat.

Completed Cloverleaf
Menomonee's main street has been the main highway to St. Paul since the town was founded permanently in 1846. The main highway and a gigantic cloverleaf interchange, the first complete one in the state, cut through what old residents call North Menomonee, bypassing dozens of businesses which formerly catered to tourists and travelers.

Menomonee is the principal town along the present Highway 94 which will feel the squeeze. The others are too small. Of the large towns, Hudson has been bypassed for about 10 years. Eau Claire since the end of World War II. Because of the lake around which the city is built, Menomonee has not been bypassed, and tourists frequently used it as a stopping place.

But all the cities bypassed before have continued to grow, with the exception, perhaps, of Eau Claire, which has experienced several factory closings recently, giving the entire northwest Wisconsin area economic jitters.

North Menomonee residents and businessmen look at the highway as a definite boon. Residents and businessmen in the main section of the city, about two miles, a river, industrial district and a college campus away, do not necessarily agree, however.

Says Edward Phelan, a grade school principal and manager of a large North Menomonee motel about a half mile off the Highway 94 interchange, linking Highways 25, 12 and 94:

"I really don't know what to say. I thought at first it would hurt us, now I think it might be a boon. Judging from our repeat business the last two years, we may come out of it all right."

Phelan pointed to two gas stations being erected just off the highway as indications that large gasoline companies feel the Menomonee interchange will get a lot of business. (There are no restaurants or filling stations on the I-system highway.)

Regionalism Cited
His neighbor and the county's assemblyman, Einar P. Lund, also a clothier and a former high school teacher, is not as hesitant as Phelan. Says he:

"It's time they did something for the area west of Eau Claire. This region, including Menomonee, River Falls, New Richmond, Hudson and the rest, has always felt more attached to Minnesota than Wisconsin. We read their papers, watch their television and follow their politics. As far as Madison is concerned, we live in the wilderness."

"It's time Madison started to pay some attention to us. The highway is the first step toward recognition."

"The second step would be the state office building contemplated for this area of the state. It will give them an opportunity to recognize the western section. We have offered them the perfect site, about two blocks off the interchange, where there is plenty of acreage, and the state already owns another 24 acres adjacent to the highway overlooking the (Red Cedar) river."

Eau Claire Rivalry
Lund was referring to the state's plans to erect two new state office buildings, one of them in the Menomonee area. So far, it is believed Menomonee's traditional rival, Eau Claire, has the best chance of getting the building because it has about 150 state employees already. But Eau Claire will be four miles from the new highway and land there is more expensive than in Menomonee. Furthermore, McPherson, who has housing available, is close to airports at St. Paul and Eau Claire, as well as being on three major highways.

Lund said all of the cities in the area still have a chance for the building and he will do his best in Madison to discourage the regional attitude held by citizens of the western part of the state who openly acknowledge allegiance to Minnesota.

A downtown filling station owner and school board member is not enthusiastic about business prospects. Philip Johnson says many of his traveling customers tell him they no longer will be stopping at his station. He anticipates as much as a 25 percent decline in business because of Highway 94.

"But," says Johnson, "we can't let down. We'll have to go into special services and find other ways of attracting business."

Johnson's attitude of encouragement and tenacity characterizes much of the city. Residents are convinced, in the long run, the highway will aid them. But they're unsure about the downtown area.

Exact trade effects of the highway will be measured by the University of Wisconsin extension division through a survey conducted by H. R. Briggs, of the Briggs Economic Research agency, Chicago.

Briggs is calling on 1,700 households between Hudson and Eau Claire and will follow with another survey about a year from now, measuring the shopping influence the highway has had.

But on one factor all the residents agree: It's a beautiful road. And so it is.

Four lanes, separated by a wide band of tree-lined grass, take a gently-curving route through the hills of Dunn and St. Croix counties. Almost two feet of prepared surface are under every inch of the roadway, which has access only through rough cloverleaf interchanges.

The road cost about $500,000 a mile, 90 percent paid by the federal government, 10 percent by the state. A total of 187,000 cubic feet of solid rock were blasted in the Knapp hills to make way for the road.

The most enthusiastic promoter for the road is doubtless Mayor William Eick, a barber. Says Eick:

"It's wonderful. It should be a great boon to the city, bringing traffic from the south, north, east and west. Now all we need is that state office building and we'll be all set." The thousands of Menomonites who have traveled the highway already are of one

Aim of Green Bay Civil Defense Plan Is Survival, Recovery After Attack

Engineering Services Would Command All Heavy Equipment for Emergency Cleanup

BY ROBERT WHITE
Post-Crescent News Service

Emergency engineering under the Green Bay target area survival plan will be directed by City Engineer F. J. Euclide.

Euclide and his assistants will be responsible for the merging of all county and municipal engineering agencies and equipment and utilizing of all private industrial equipment in emergency cleanup operations after a nuclear or other attack.

Working in close relationship with the engineering service will be the emergency transportation service under direction of Al J. Schneider, president of a Green Bay trucking firm. When an emergency is declared, Schneider and his staff would be in charge of all transportation facilities, including highways, rails, water and air travel.

Coordinate Duties
The various transportation outlets will be operated by their employees and will coordinate their duties to assure that facilities for moving personnel and equipment are immediately available.

mind, despite whatever worries they may have about the economic future. It's a beautiful road, say they, and they commit themselves no farther.

The transportation corps also must know where all emergency supplies should be stored and how they should be procured for evacuation service.

All emergency supplies will be dispatched to points in the northeast reception area according to the need in each NRA community.

D. H. McCarthy will have the responsibility of taking inventories of all supplies in the Green Bay target area.

Record Expenditures
He said his aides will also be responsible for accounting for expenditures on a matching fund basis with the federal office of civil defense and mobilization. Books and records must be kept on all materials used in the evacuation and damage estimates must also be taken into consideration.

All private firms in Brown county will be expected to work with the emergency supply service and maintain an approximate inventory of the supplies they have on hand.

It must be pointed out that the plan does not go into major detail with regard to post-attack conditions and situations.

The plan, according to Brown County Civil Defense Coordinator John Holloway, is based on the premise that all facilities used in the evacuation must be used to return to Brown county after the attack.

"The major idea of the post-attack phase of the plan will be to furnish family rehabilitation assistance," Holloway said. "This must include some manner of financial assistance for families until they can get back on their feet."

The civil defense coordinator explained that the Brown county Red Cross will play a major role in the post-attack phase of the plan.

He emphasized, however, that evacuation and survival are the major objectives of the plan.

"We cannot worry about rehabilitation until we are sure we can survive," Holloway said. "Survival, at present, should be the only major consideration."

A Return to 'Buy American'

Vance Brand, managing director of the Development Loan Fund, announced this month that future loans to underdeveloped countries must generally be used to purchase goods in the United States. This is part of a "Buy American" policy now being advocated by the Eisenhower administration. The reasons for it are important; how it will work out is still to be determined.

Sec. of the Treasury Robert Anderson apparently is the prime mover behind this change in policy, or rather the return to a policy abandoned several years ago. There also has been interest in requiring aid recipients of the International Cooperation administration, our principal foreign aid agency, to buy more in the United States. Some of the reasons can be seen in the new demands for protective tariffs. The American Assembly recently expressed alarm over this tendency which would seem to back away from the progress of the world toward free trade. Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon warned members of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade in Tokyo that discriminatory trade policies of other countries which add to the financial burden of the U. S. encourage protectionism over here.

But the real reason behind the change in policy is not that some industries have been hurt by cheap foreign competition or that their lobbyists are busy in Washington. Last year the U. S. had a deficit in net transfers of gold and dollar assets to the rest of the world of $3.4 billions. This year it is expected the figure will top $4 billions. The U. S. simply cannot afford to play Santa Claus to this extent for many years.

There are many foreign countries now that are financially healthy enough to share the burden of aid to the underdeveloped countries. They also could remove barriers against American goods which are established by quota rather than tariff. Germany, France, Britain and Japan, now in economic good health, continue to maintain these barriers and, in effect, the U. S. is financing their assistance to the poorer nations. The U. S. also pays the freight for a great deal of the military protection of these countries. Why cannot West Germany, for instance, help to foot the bill for U. S. servicemen stationed there?

The Buy American principle has some practical drawbacks. American goods, in general, cost more than foreign goods and aid money spent over here won't go as far as that spent for a bargain. Some opponents of the policy argue that it opens us to charges of economic imperialism and that other nations will retaliate by raising tariffs and lowering quotas on American goods. They point out that "tied loans" are a Russian gimmick and we can profit psychologically by not having them.

But the loss in gold reserves is becoming increasingly serious. The Buy American principle at least will return to this country a great deal of the money which is sent away.

Writer Wonders When City to Get Athletic Field for Three Schools

Editor, Post-Crescent:

After being shifted from pillar to post, we are now discussing the absence of an athletic field for the three high schools in Appleton.

Where is it? Is it at Menasha? Is it in Kimberly? Or is it at Whiting field? Let's look at the score.

Our first game we played at Menasha. Then two days prior to the Fond du Lac game, we were notified that Whiting field was not available for our use. Lawrence college is not to blame for this misfortune. They own the field and had a game themselves the following day. Then the school officials consulted with the Mayor's office to obtain the use of Goodland field. We feel that this necessary move was unjust to the Appleton High team, as well as to the opposition.

Appleton, a city of 50,000, has three high schools and not one adequate athletic field. Let's look at other cities, both large and small, and even surrounding villages which have their own fields. Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah, Menasha, Sheboygan North, Sheboygan Central, Manitowish, East and West Green Bay, Little Chute, New London and Kimberly.

Where does Appleton stand? Are we still wandering, or wondering?

Back almost eight years ago, the City was offered 15 acres of land close to the high school for $5,000. Today it would be impossible to buy one acre of this land for $5,000. Are we going to continue to drift for another eight years, when land within the limits of A. H. S. will be impossible to purchase? Suppose we face the facts. Whiting field belongs to Lawrence college. Goodland field was constructed for purposes of playing baseball. That leave Appleton without a municipal athletic field for its three high schools.

Let's hope that our civic minded groups and all Appletonians will take notice of this movement and light the lamp that will show our city fathers the way.

You Can't Tell the Private Investigators Without a Card

From The Memphis Commercial Appeal

For some obscure reason, a line spoken by a Mexican bandit in the movie, "The Treasure of Sierra Madre," has always stuck in our mind. Posing as a federal policeman, the bandit was challenged to show his badge. "We don't need no badges," snapped the bandit, and the shooting began.

The quotation is an appropriate one for private detectives in New York state now. No longer does New York law call the private eye a "detective." Henceforth, he's a "private investigator." And without a badge. A billfold identification card is all he may carry. Shades of Sam Spade! No

Democrats Lose, but Scared 'Em

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Nov. 6, 1880.

It was very evident from the amount of energy and superhuman effort made on Tuesday, by the route agents, postmasters, U. S. detectives and other government officials, of which we had a prominent example in our own city and county, that these men were nearly scared out of their boots with fears the naughty Democrats might win and they would be left out in the cold.

It was amusing to watch the anxiety on their faces during election day, as contrasted with the broad smiles o'erspreading their physiognomies the day following when the telegraph flashed the news that their bread and butter was assured for another four years.

A more contented lot of chaps never left the city the next day than they did, with their grip-sacks. They were as happy as a boy with his first pair of new boots. Once more, "the country was safe!"

Every Departmental Budget Is Watered

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Propaganda is as much the business of the politician holding high office as is the actual administration of the office which has been put in his charge.

To continue his lease on power he must cultivate a favorable image in the consciousness of the electorate, and when he is confronted with unpleasant tasks, he must strive to convince the unwilling voter about their inevitability. Thus it is today with the Democrats who have charge of managing the state's finances and are preparing the electorate for the unpleasant news that state taxes will take a big jump, and are spending all their waking moments trying to convince the skeptical man down in the taxpaying ranks that there is nothing else for it.

The philosopher on the sidelines knows well enough that this propaganda is essentially true—with respect to the alternatives available politically. The Republicans will do a good deal of viewing with alarm. If they held power the chances are that there might be a little less spending. But there would be no assurance of a real difference. Taxes would be going up and they would be putting out their excuses in about the same language and with the same anxiety.

THE FINAL TRUTH

But is it actually true that the state must spend so much more, that the taxpayers must dig down a little more deeply whatever their wish and their personal economic circumstances, and let this trend will continue into the distant future without respite?

The answer is no.

In spite of all the fuss made in recent years about budget procedure reform, the auditing of expenditures remains a very casual business. Perhaps a reporter of some experience in the statehouse is peculiarly equipped to judge these things. This one will testify that there is water in virtually every departmental budget he has ever seen adopted.

Government is the only human institution in which a service once established, for whatever reason that seemed justified at the time, is never thereafter halted.

The Wisconsin situation can be compared, legitimately, with the kind and extent of governmental arrangements in other states of the country. The Wisconsin average of per capita spending for state and local government is high. Are Wisconsin citizens necessarily happier for that? Do they consciously want that? Could the average be brought down? A referendum on that bare question would produce some interesting results, it may be speculated.

WHY THEN?

Why then is it inevitable, in practical terms, that state spending will continue to rise, and that state taxes will become more onerous at the same time?

Partly it is a matter of the nature of the politician that most human of humans. The politician early learns to regard the body politic as a collection of minorities. There is an aggressive and articulate pressure group that stands behind every one of the multitude of separate appropriations in that state budget now grown to staggering size.

Partly it is a matter of mechanics, the sheer impossibility of strict control and analysis of multi-million dollar spending programs, and that difficulty obviously is being compounded every year as the size of the governmental institution grows by leaps and bounds. A legislative committee can pounce upon a request for a new typewriter in a small agency. It is almost literally helpless in examining a bundle that amounts to $50,000,000.

So the governor is probably right when he says these things are inevitable, although the sophisticated listener may shrug skeptically and reflect privately whether the happiness of the commonwealth would be perceptibly affected if instead of raising taxes by $30,000,000 a brave man managed to cut back spending to that amount, or perhaps 10 per cent.

Drugs Cost Less Than Many Consumer Goods

From The Greenville (S.C.) News

A good deal has been said and written during the current prosperity wave about the high cost of drugs. In a recent speech before the American Pharmaceutical association, New York university economist Jules Backman countered the critics of high drug prices by declaring that while 15 per cent of all prescriptions cost $5 or more, the average price of all prescriptions now is about $3.

In addition he pointed out that Americans spend an average of $18.75 per person a year on drugs and medicines compared to $36.00 for tobacco, $53 for alcoholic beverages and $24 on such personal care items as beauty shops, barber shops and toilet articles.

All of which puts the medicine bill in a favorable light when lined up with the several less essential items mentioned. But ask the man in the street about it and he'll tell you that all of them are too high.

Pardon Our Antiquity

From The Pleasant Hill (Mo.) Times

We feel terribly old fashioned, here in the newspaper and printing business. Any product that cannot be put into a pressure can and sprayed is just not modern American.

A Miracle in Surgery

Billy L. Smith, 25, a foundry plant worker in Hayward, Calif., is the first man in history to have a severed leg successfully grafted back onto his body.

At present Smith is the patient of two surgeons whose names have not been revealed. One is an orthopedic surgeon and the other a vascular surgeon. When Smith's leg was crushed in an industrial accident he was brought to the hospital with only a 2-inch strip of skin connecting his lower leg with the stump a few inches above the knee. Ordinarily the surgeon would have severed the little strip, arranged for the healing of the stump and the fitting of the patient with an artificial leg.

But this orthopedic surgeon had a different idea. He called the vascular surgeon and asked him, "Do you want to try for a miracle?" The question was answered by action and the two surgeons went to work to save the man's leg.

First they cleared the blood vessels in the lower legs with anti-clotting fluid, the main arteries were sewed together and the blood started flowing. The foot immediately turned pink, but within a few minutes it was white again and no pulse registered.

Another Victim

The Red-tinted hand, weapon clutched in fist, which struck down Leon Trotsky in Mexico years ago apparently has found another prominent victim.

Stefan Bandera was politically no American style capitalist but he stood for the independence of his homeland, the Ukraine. Sentenced to life imprisonment in 1936 for complicity in the assassination of a Polish official, he was released when the Germans invaded Poland three years later. In 1941 his Organization of Ukrainian Nationalists declared their land independent of the Soviet Union.

Bandera refused to collaborate with the nazis and he was thrown into a concentration camp. Released in 1944, he reportedly led some 200,000 Ukrainians in the Ukrainian Insurgent army which was supposed to have controlled a considerable amount of the country when the Germans left. Bandera had to flee to Germany and Soviet troops wiped out the home front in 1950.

But there must have been a remnant or organization in Munich, for Stefan Bandera died there last week of cyanide poisoning. The communists long ago recognized the dangerous importance of a martyr in exile.

TV May Be Watching You

Many people are looking askance at TV these days but TV also is watching a great many people. Persons walking into department stores, banks or warehouses may have an electric eye watching them.

Some concerns, particularly in New York, have installed closed circuit television on their premises without informing the public or employees about it, thus every move a visitor makes is recorded. Sherman Burns, president of the William J. Burns International Detective agency, says that industry is turning increasingly to television with the radar eye and the electronically tripped camera for protection against thieves.

Naturally such concerns do not advertise the fact because to do so would rob the equipment of much of its efficiency. It is said that employees do not resent spying by television as much as by fellow employees. The honest employees have nothing to fear and they realize, of course, that it is largely directed against outsiders who might come in for pilfering.

Many stores have such equipment to watch for shoplifters. When one is spotted the detective, is alerted and the person picked up. While many people are critical of the rigged shows on TV, perhaps it is only fair that TV itself should have the opportunity of looking at a criminal who may be picking up goods which belong to other people.

the building of a great wall. With each lie we tell, each bit of gossip we spread, or each misdeed we perform, we are adding another brick. Some of us will never come out of our confinements, for it's a funny kind of wall — it can only be torn down from inside. Insecurity has laid the foundation for our wall, and unless this foundation is dug up we will always be in danger of shutting ourselves off.

When is this foundation built? Of course the answer is obvious — it's right now. So maybe now we can see why adults envy us so much. We are forever changing, while their mold is set. True, we are still plagued by enormous temptations, but we aren't idiots — we can learn to say the word NO. Yes, once we have faced our own drawbacks it is far easier to face the world. If we are to choose wisely tomorrow, we must learn how today.

What Others are Saying

Learning to Face Self Life's Hardest Task

From The Appleton High School Tallman

Sometimes we could laugh out loud at grownups who look at us and say, "Now enjoy your teen years; they're the best years of your life." If they could honestly remember a few of their high school experiences, this time-worn sentence would never be uttered. For we are now facing some of the hardest temptations and trials of our lives. Adults, secure in their maturity, seem to forget that we are all struggling in a great sea of insecurity. Every one of us is trying desperately to do the "popular" thing, but who is to judge our popularity? Are we using the "crowd" as our standard or can any of us say we are following the only leader there is . . . and I think you know whom I mean.

Of course it is important to be well liked; those of us who deny it are downright liars. But let's stop a minute and look at our methods. Is it any wonder why we so often fail? We are seeking security from outside when the only real peace comes from within. We run ourselves ragged trying to impress others, but somehow we can never quite fool ourselves.

What we are doing to ourselves may be pictured as

Budget Balancing, Tax Base Will Occupy Legislature

Nelson Has Shown He Wants To Avoid More Progressivity

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — Nearly two-thirds of the increasing expenditures of the state is derived from the graduated state income tax.

The fact, detailed in an exhaustive review of Wisconsin tax practices published last week at the direction of Gov. Gayord Nelson, will be a key element of a tax policy debate raging for recent months that will reach a crescendo in the new session of the legislature which opens today.

The unusually heavy reliance upon the income tax for public revenues in Wisconsin, as contrasted with typical state practices in America, is hit by critics as the "narrowness" of the tax base.

Ask For Sales Tax

Their goal is a revision of the state income tax system as well as the local property tax system, by means of a general sales tax.

A part of the concern of the tax revision champions is the fact that the basic income tax is progressive, in the sense that the rate of tax is accelerated rapidly according to tax brackets.

The sales tax is an extremely sensitive subject to Gov. Nelson, as titular leader of a party which has campaigned against such means of collecting public revenue, but the governor also has shown an awareness of the problem of "progressivity".

He is determined to avoid accentuating the progressivity factor. He has announced, for example, that he does not intend to support an increase in the individual income sur-tax now in effect, and would prefer to have that rate reduced.

Committee Changes Other Incomes Policy

Budgetmakers Switch From Planning Surplus to Estimating Near Experience

The city council's 1960 budget committee, in a departure from recent practice, is estimating incomes from other than property taxes at close to actual experience.

If the city council approves Wednesday night, the 1960 schedule will provide $2,804,875 to alleviate the tax rate demand.

This is $284,423 more than was estimated by last year's council from the same sources.

It is $2,523 more than was received or is predicted for receipt from the same sources this year.

It is also $10,440 more than was suggested to the committee by City Clerk Broehm.

Schedule Given

Here is the schedule, with the numbers listed after the sources appearing in this order: Amount for next year, amount predicted a year ago and amount actually received or predicted for receipt:

State income tax share, $1,100,000 predicted for next year, $1,107,859.49 actually received this year.

Special assessments against abutting property owners for street improvements and the like, $474,825 predicted for next year, $505,466 estimated last year, $495,628.99 actually received or to be received this year.

State gasoline tax allotment, $308,000 next year, $300,000 last year, $308,382.82 actually received.

General fund surplus, $205,500 on Dec. 31, 1959, $150,000 predicted last year, $165,402.94 actually on hand Dec. 31, 1958.

Parking Revenue Up

Share of state taxes on Wisconsin Michigan Power company, $95,000 next year, $90,000 foreseen of this year, $90,000 unpaid, but expected.

Water utility contribution, $95,000, same as last year.

The 25 per cent surtax increases the progressivity of normal tax rates, and makes the Wisconsin top bracket rate the highest of any state income tax in the country.

Gov. Nelson's tax advisory staff also has inferentially backed avoiding further progressivity by producing studies showing upper bracket income taxpayers now are paying proportionately more out of their incomes than are those in the middle income classes.

Meanwhile political circles are showing interest in the optimistic estimates of the Democratic administration's financial staff about the economic prospects ahead in Wisconsin.

Sensitive System

The state tax system, relying so heavily upon income taxation, is extremely sensitive to changes in the general economy.

But the governor's men have no worries, according to their budget just transmitted to the legislature.

Only a protracted steel strike could significantly depress Wisconsin economic production — and tax productivity — during the next year, they said. Wisconsin is less vulnerable to steel strike repercussions than most other states.

Incomes Will Rise

"Personal incomes are anticipated to continue to rise along with the general upswing in the indicators for business," the legislature was told in a budget analysis.

"Consumer spending is expected to keep pace with the increase in personal incomes. The public also gives every indication of increasing its consumer debt. The automobile industry, through its wider range of models, especially in the new and lower priced compact car field, is expected to make a strong bid for the consumers' dollar," the governor's budget staff wrote confidently.

Those predictions buttressed calculations for higher yields from existing state tax sources, and a corresponding reduction in the size of the prospective budget deficit.

But that deficit will remain at about $30,000,000, even if optimistically calculated, and the matter of extracting that amount of money from the body politic will engage the legislature in furious and protracted discussion in ensuing weeks.

1,037 X-Rayed by WATA Bus Unit

A total of 1,037 Appleton area people had chest X-rays last week when the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis mobile unit was in the area.

According to Mrs. John Milhaupt, secretary of the Appleton area WATA, 482 were X-rayed at the Red Owl store and 467 at Valley Fair shopping center. Eighty-eight were X-rayed at the Greenville grange, when the unit stopped for two hours Tuesday evening.

Forty volunteer Outagamie county Gray Ladies took individual histories.

The unit is new and was purchased with money from Easter seal contributions.

Fined for Hunting After Closing Time

Waupaca — Roy Mittelstaedt, 44, Royalton, and Alois Kalinka, 34, route 3, New London, each paid $10 fines after pleading guilty of hunting ducks after closing time.

They were hauled before Justice George Whalen after arrest by conservation wardens Oct. 28 in the town of Royalton.

Bodies of 4 Crash Victims Found

Cloverton, Minn. — Bodies of four Iowans missing since their plane vanished Aug. 21, were found Sunday in crash wreckage spotted in rugged brush country near here.

A ground party returned to the wreckage today to remove the bodies of Lloyd Boofler, Elma, Iowa, the pilot, and Leonard Chestek, William Schneider and Fred Wegner, all of Colwell, Iowa.

The four took off from Charles City, Iowa, the morning of Aug. 21. After refueling at Lake Elmo, near St. Paul, the plane landed again at Siren, Wis., to seek information on how to avoid a storm.

That was the last seen of the four who were bound for St. Ignace, Ontario, for a weekend of fishing. The plane left Siren at 11 a.m. and crashed 15 minutes later. Watches

Two Men Pay For Hunting With No Valid License

Two Appleton men have been fined in municipal court on a charge of violating conservation regulations Oct. 17 in the town of Maine.

The men are Gus A. Zuehlke, 37, of 1715 Hycrest drive, and Richard Stack, 1306 N. Cedar street. Stack was fined $25 for hunting pheasant without a license.

Zuehlke was fined $35 for failing to produce a valid hunting license when asked to do so by Warden Kenneth Corbett and $10 for carrying an uncased gun in his car. Both men stipulated guilt.

The men were hunting on a private game farm and said they did not know they needed a license.

worn by two of the men had stopped at 11:15.

POTPOURRI — The average letter sent by the average letter writer in the United States travels an average of 561 miles from its origin to its destination. . . Yes, you have said that "they don't make things like they used to in the old days." And they don't. In 1925 the average automobile could be expected to have a life of about six years and to travel about 25,570 miles. Today's cars can be expected to last about eight years and to travel about 103,000 miles. . .

Next time you play cards you might try to remember that the inventor of playing cards (about 1385) chose the four suits with a purpose. Spades are not really spades at all; they're spear points (and they represent the soldiery and the nobility). Hearts are meant to represent the clergy. Clubs—in honor of farmers and rural folks—represent the clover leaf. The diamond is not a diamond at all, but was intended to represent a paving block or stone of which the houses of the middle-class French were usually built. . .

Because of the time differences involved in this item, you'll have to believe me when I report (accurately, too!) that the Honolulu Bulletin had the box score of the world series game on its front page before the game was played. . .

Except for the preceding number, hers is 2560. . .

Probably the first football game played in Wisconsin took place in 1865, just after the Civil War. The game was played between two

Halloween Is Quiet, Police Praise Efforts

Kaukauna — Harold V. Engerson, chief of police, praised youngsters and adults in the community for their conduct and efforts in making the past Halloween night the quietest on record. . .

No vandalism, window soaping or other disturbances were reported to police although extra officers in squad cars kept youths from congregating and kept them moving whenever noted. . .

Police at Little Chute and Kimberly reiterated the remarks of Kaukauna's chief as both reported the best of Halloween nights without window soaping or vandalism. . .

All attribute it to the work of parents in impressing on youngsters the importance of respecting other people's property and the cooperation of the young people. . .

Madison — Capt. Wilbur H. Emery, a native of Madison and member of the local police department since 1946, took over Monday as chief of police. . .

Emery, 38, was chosen Saturday by the Police and Fire Commission which considered 40 candidates in looking for a successor to Bruce Weatherly who was removed from office last spring. . .

Kimberly, Kaukauna Grid Teams Clash on Wednesday

Kimberly—Two of the Mid-Eastern conference hottest rivals will clash when the Papermakers entertain Kaukauna High at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday here. . .

It will be the season finale for both clubs. Each team has been eliminated from the league race but a lot of prestige will go to the victor. . .

Kaukauna currently has a 4-2 record and the Papermakers are 3-3. The Ghosts will be favored to cop the contest but Kimberly has a potent offensive attack built around the passing of quarterback Don Hearden. . .

Each squad will be sending 13 seniors on the field for the last time. The Kimberly fourth-year players include Hearden, Darrell Jansen, Jeff a 13 to 6 victory in a thriller. Dietzler, Dennis Vanden Elst, Mark Emmers, Billy Maas, Dennis Menting, Don and the Papermakers also played. Dave Freund, won in 1955 by a 26 to 0 margin. Ralph Hagens, Ray Seidel, gin.

Village to Make Application for Federal Funds

President Authorized To Seek $32,170 for Sewage Plant Project

Kimberly — The village board Monday night authorized President Alvin Fulcer to sign an application for a federal grant in aid for $32,170.80 to help pay for improvements at the sewage disposal plant. . .

The exact amount of the federal aid is indefinite until contracts are awarded but it will not exceed the amount applied for by the president. The village is entitled to 30 per cent of total construction costs. . .

The money will not be received until plans and specifications are completed and approved. Kimberly State bank has offered the village the balance of the money for construction at 3.75 per cent interest. . .

Budget Meetings
Fulcer informed the board a series of budget meetings would get underway this week with a public hearing on the proposed 1960 budget set for 7 p.m. Dec. 8. . .

Approval was given for the purchasing of 150 feet of fire hose with old hose from the fire department to be used for flooding ice rinks. The department will order one and one-half inch hose. . .

The street commissioner was authorized to purchase $100 in chemical additive to be mixed with salt and sand solutions on village streets this winter. . .

Ice Rinks
Trustees were informed Joseph Van Daalwyk had made any vacant lots in the new additions available for ice rinks for the coming year. Plans call for the street department to flood two small rinks in the new areas. . .

An investigation into the feasibility of opening a fifth rink on Legion owned property is being studied. Trustees felt five rinks would not be too many to maintain if users would help with minor shoveling after light snows. Maintenance of rinks will not interfere with street work, according to Fulcer. . .

Police were asked to keep trucks, hauling lumber, off James street when trucking to the wood yards on Railroad street. Trustees pointed to the narrow street as a safety hazard when used by trucks and felt the roadbed was not constructed for heavy traffic. . .

19 Boys Join Altar Knights

Little Chute — Nineteen boys of St. John Catholic school, Little Chute, were received into the "Knights of the Altar" organization at ceremonies at the church recently. . .

The organization is for boys who serve for mass, benediction and other rites in honor of the Blessed Sacrament. The Rev. LeRoy Hogen, assistant pastor, presented diplomas to the boys. . .

225-589 Pace K of C Loop

Kaukauna — Gene Schuh slammed a 225 game and Walter Ruten, Jr., posted a 589 series. Team honors went to Hennes and Mitchler with an 885 game and a 2,599 series. . .

Bill Mitchler hit 579 for the only other honor count. . .

Fox Cities Campers to View State Park Slides

Kaukauna — Slides on state parks and camping sites will be shown at a meeting of the Fox Cities chapter of the Wisconsin Camper's association at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the council chambers. . .

Sherman Rogers, in charge of the program, said the meeting would be open to anyone interested in camping, tenting or trailering. . .

School Discussion Set

Freemont — A special meeting for discussion of school expansion will be at the Freemont grade school Monday evening. Voters of the district will decide whether to accept plans for the building of two additional classrooms and an all-purpose room. . .

Gov. Nelson to be Guest Speaker At Badger-Northland Plant Fete

Open House Planned in Conjunction With Annual Sales, Distributors Meeting

Kaukauna — Gov. Gaylord Nelson will speak for the 1-day open house and dedication of a $50,000 plant addition Jan. 11 at Badger-Northland, according to Vincent Rohlf, Badger president. . .

The dedication is being held in conjunction with the annual sales meeting of the firm's distributors throughout the United States and Canada. The governor will appear at the plant from 2:30 to 3 p. m. for a talk. Arrangements are being made to have other dignitaries on hand. . .

$50,000 Addition
The addition started in the spring of this year has enabled the firm to double its capacity and output, according to the president. . .

Sales ending with the fiscal year on July 1 amounted to $4,100,000 compared to $2,100,000 ending the fiscal year in 1958, according to Rohlf. . .

Although eight months remain in the 1960 fiscal year, present sales indicate the concern will have over $6,000,000 by July, 1960. This despite the steel shortage which has forced the company to seek steel from other sources. Sales and production continue at a high rate, said the president. . .

Badger-Northland employs over 250 persons, almost double the number carried on the payroll at this time last year, continued the president. Based on figures given by . . .

Woman Speaks Of Neck Pains In 2-Car Mishap

Little Chute — Miss Grace Kilsdonk, 1110 N. Wilson street, Little Chute, complained of pain in her neck when the car she was driving was struck by a car driven by Mark Hietpas, 26, route 4, Appleton, on Depot street about 10:30 a. m. Sunday. . .

According to police Miss Kilsdonk was traveling south on Depot, slowed and stopped to pick up a passenger, when Hietpas struck the back end of her car. About $250 damage was reported to the vehicles. . .

Nelson Says Billboard Lobby Tries to Defeat Proposed Regulation

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson said Monday opponents of proposed billboard regulation for state trunk highways have launched "an intensive campaign of distortion and misrepresentation" to defeat it. . .

"I hope that the citizens of Wisconsin and the legislators who will act on this bill are not deluded by the phony claims the billboard lobby is making," Nelson said. . .

The billboard measure has passed the assembly and is one of several controversial bills awaiting action by the senate in the fall legislative session. A companion bill regulating billboards on Wisconsin's interstate system has been enacted into law. . .

Nelson said the billboard lobby has labeled the legislation an "absolute prohibition" against billboards. He said material addressed to motel owners, farmers, cheesemakers and restaurant owners has claimed it will completely curtail roadside advertising. . .

"The truth about the bill," Nelson said, "is that it does not provide for zoning or regulation." . .

Phone Service To be Improved By New Project

Gas Pressure to be Added in Cables for Preventing Seepage

Kaukauna — The Wisconsin Telephone company is currently working on a project to cut the number of service failures in the Kaukauna-Little Chute exchange areas, according to Richard Kuehn, manager. . .

Work consists of putting cables under air pressure, thus reducing service failures caused by water and moisture seeping through cracks in the cables. These cracks form when the cable sheath expands and contracts, during periods of sudden temperature changes. . .

When paper insulation is soaked, shorts occur in the cable and customer service is interrupted. The problem can be partially solved by pumping dry nitrogen gas inside the lead cable sheath through the use of a compressor located in the telephone office. Temperature of gas is also regulated to help prevent contraction and expansion during temperature changes. . .

Constant Pressure
After all terminals and leakage points are plugged, a constant gas pressure is kept in the cable. Breaks in the cable sheath cause a loss of gas pressure and set off an alarm in the telephone office. . .

The area of the break can be charted within a matter of feet. A repairman then covers the cable with a soap solution and bubbles created by the escaping gas pinpoint the break. . .

The pressure method enables repairmen to restore customer service much more rapidly, indicated Kuehn. "This project is another step in the company's effort to provide good telephone service with a minimum of service interruptions," stated the manager. He expects the entire project to be completed by the end of the year. . .

Area Hunters to Sight Rifles at Appleton Range

Kaukauna — Harold V. Engerson, chief of police, has received notification the Appleton Rifle and Pistol club will open its range facilities to the public for sighting of rifles on Nov. 8 and 9. . .

Police have been receiving inquiries into where hunters can sight rifles prior to the opening of deer hunting. A "running deer" target will be erected for practice and members of the Appleton club will be on hand both days to assist the public in making minor adjustments or repairs deemed necessary. . .

In the interest of safety the range will be closed to guests if club members are not present to supervise shooting, said Engerson. Shooting on these days will be permitted from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. with 30 targets available. . .

Combined Locks Boy Found in Iowa After Traffic Violation

Combined Locks — A 16-year old Combined Locks youth reported missing from his home Friday morning was back in the village Monday after being picked up Saturday night by officers in Vinton county, Iowa. . .

The youth was picked up after he was noted going through an arterial light. His parents traveled to Iowa to get the boy and he was released to his parents' custody with no charges filed against him. The boy took the family car when leaving home. . .

Legislators Open Difficult Session

State income tax rates to increase revenues by about a third to solve a budget deficit and to change the state constitution to permit a state long-term bonded debt.

The governor for his part has shown a disposition to fight for some of his earlier proposals thus far, deferred including an extremely controversial proposal to set up a control system for highway billboard advertising.

Legislators jokingly exchanged forecasts as they gathered today about the probable length of the session, with most of them obviously hopeful that they can conclude their work in a month.

Long Session?

But others including professional observers of the legislative scene were cautious. Some of them suggested that it will be the Christmas holiday season that will force a break-up of the session and that if there is a stalemate on the tax issue the lawmakers may return in the new year.

Some Republican members are annoyed, according to their public and private expressions, that the governor's plan for basic tax revision at the fall session has been deferred.

Nelson campaigned on a plan to set up a blue ribbon commission to study state tax needs and problems, they recall, and according to his prospective time-table now, he will campaign on the matter again in the election of 1960 because of the expected delays in the action of the commission now at work.

U.S. to Price Indian Lands For Settlement

000 acres of the 3,931,000 acres claimed should not be included.

He said also that from whatever 1832 fair price is established should be deducted unspecified amounts of money paid the Indians in the past.

Green Bay Tract

The land in question, called the Green Bay Tract, ranges from near Escanaba, Mich. in the north to what is now Milwaukee in the south and from Green Bay and Lake Michigan in the east to the best bordering such communities as Crivitz, Kaukauna and Plymouth.

Of the 4,122 Indians making the claim 3,612 are Wisconsin Oneida Indians and the remaining 510 are of the Stockbridge and Muncie and Mohican Indians.

The claim is based on the taking of the land by the U. S. government on or before Feb. 8, 1831. The land has been held by the emigrant New York Indians under an agreement of Sept. 23, 1822 with the Menominee nation of Indians which was approved by President Monroe; March 13, 1823, and again approved by the secretary of war Oct. 27, 1823.

On Feb. 8, 1831, a treaty was negotiated between the United States and the Menominee Indians which, the claimants contend, divested the emigrant New York Indians of all rights to the Green Bay Tract.

Aaron claims that the U. S. government then paid the Menominee Indians from 6¢ to 17¢ cents an acre for this land and the Oneida group nothing. He says the government later sold this land to settlers at not less than $1.25 an acre.

bor law. It directs the workers to halt their strike during an 80-day "cooling off" period, but it doesn't become effective until the supreme court rules.

There was no firm indication how soon that would be. It was believed likely that legal arguments would be completed today, but no time limit was fixed for them. The court's ruling could come at any time after the arguments end.

The court could, if it chose, announce its decision in a brief order without waiting to write a formal opinion. The opinion could be filed later.

No Sessions Today

Federal mediators met inconclusively yesterday with both union and management negotiators and called further sessions for Wednesday. Chief Mediator Joseph F. Finnegan said he hadn't decided whether to arrange separate or joint meetings then. No sessions were scheduled today because of the court hearings.

President David J. McDonald of the Steelworkers union said yesterday's meetings made "absolutely no headway." R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, agreed he couldn't point to any new sign of progress.

Economic effects of the strike increased meanwhile.

Flynn's 2nd Wife Seeks Guardianship of 2 Girls

Los Angeles — Mrs. Errol Flynn's second wife says she wants to be the guardian of her two daughters by Flynn — so she can protect their interests in case there's a dispute over his will.

Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes Monday filed a petition asking guardianship over Deirdre, 14, and Rory, 12. The late actor left each of the girls $10,000 in a will dated April 1954.

After the will was filed the attorney for Beverly Aadland announced he would seek a third of the estate for her on the basis of a later document. She was Flynn's 17-year-old protegee and was with him when he died Oct. 14 at Vancouver, B.C.

The labor department reported yesterday that strike-induced idleness has spread to 337,000 workers in industries dependent on steel, in addition to the 500,000 strikers themselves. It said layoffs will increase more sharply this month.

It has been more than three weeks since President Eisenhower on Oct. 9 declared the strike a national emergency and invoked the Taft-Hartley law. A fact-finding board he named tried unsuccessfully to mediate the dispute but, under terms of the law, made no recommendations for settlement in its report to Eisenhower on Oct. 19.

After this, Eisenhower directed Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers to seek a return-to-work order.

Federal Dist. Judge Herbert P. Sog of Pittsburgh on Oct. 21 granted the government's plea for an 80-day injunction. Six days later the U. S. Court of Appeals in Philadelphia upheld Judge Sog, but again held up effectiveness of the injunction to allow the union to seek a supreme court review.

Union's Arguments

The union's major arguments, as outlined in legal briefs, are that:

1. The findings of Judge Sog that the strike, if not halted, would imperil the national health and safety were "based on a misreading of the statute and, even on that misreading, were unsupported by the evidence." The union says its term health was meant in its normal sense of physical health, and was not meant to include economic well being.
2. The Taft-Hartley law attempts to confer upon the federal courts duties that are not properly judicial functions, making the 80-day injunction provision of the act unconstitutional.

Solicitor Gen. J. Lee Rankin, for the government, has challenged every legal contention of the union. He said unemployment already resulting from the steel strike establishes "the imminence of great economic disruption." He contends this affects the "national health or safety," as those terms are used in the law.

Replying to the union's constitutional challenge, he contended that "Anglo-American jurisprudence... has long imposed in courts comparable fact-finding problems to be solved on the basis of the evidence and arguments proffered by the parties."

apartment were the same as those asked on the air."

He identified the producer as Mert Koplin.

Cugat said he not only was given the questions that would be asked him but those to be asked of his opponent as well.

"In my apartment," Cugat said, "we spoke of every question and answer that went on the air."

"Why did you quit at $16,000?" asked Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Texas).

"I didn't quit — they quit me," Cugat replied.

Rogers asked how "they quit you."

"Well, when they pronounced me a winner, that was the end."

As for the publicity, he got out of his appearance, Cugat said, "I didn't know at that time it was going to turn bad."

He said he realized now that the way the show was run amounted to cheating. Asked whether he would have gone on had he known this at the time, Cugat said, "not in a million years, no."

Leadoff Witness

Cugat was the leadoff witness at today's session of house subcommittee hearings which have exposed wide-scale rigging of once top-rated quiz programs.

He actually won $16,000, he said, or which 10 per cent went to his publicity man who arranged the appearance, some went to his brother, some to Spanish and Italian orphanages, and "most of the balance went for taxes."

"I know I broke no law," he said. "I know I intended no injury to any person. I know that as an entertainer I am called upon all the time to make-believe, to help make a good show."

"I suppose the producers of 'The $64,000 Challenge' also wanted to make a better show, and so they made-believe, too. If there was too much make-believe, I wish you could do something about it without giving entertainment too much of a black eye."

Cugat joined the parade of witnesses before the house subcommittee on legislative oversight in its expose of coaching, rigging and conniving on television quizzes.

Charles Van Doren, the boyish-appearing whiz on the program "Twenty-One," furnished high drama yesterday with an agonized confession that he was coached to $129,000 winnings.

The bandleader wore a brown suit and a black and yellow plaid vest. He sat at the witness table polishing his horn rimmed glasses.

Cugat, his attorney by his side, read a statement in the accent familiar to thousands of radio and television fans.

Cugat said his publicity agent thought it would be a good idea to get him on a quiz show about the time his orchestra was opening a New York engagement.

At the time, he said, "I thought the quiz shows were on the up and up. I was interested in publicity but I did not want to make a fool of myself."

Latin-American music or art, but his category turned out to be popular music. Cugat said he protested to his publicity man, and was told "not to worry about a thing."

A day or two before he went on the show, Cugat recalled, a member of the producer's staff came to his apartment and asked a series of questions.

"I knew the answers to some, but I didn't know the answers to others," Cugat said, and "when I didn't know the answers, he gave me the answers."

His coach, whom he identified as Mert Koplin, "didn't say in so many words that the questions he asked me were the questions that would be asked on the show," Cugat told the committee.

Identical Questions

"But when the questions were asked on the show, they were the very same questions I had been asked in my apartment," he testified.

"After the first time we were asked questions on the show, I knew, of course, that the questions that were asked in my apartment would be the ones asked on the show."

Cugat said when he reached the $16,000 level his opponent missed two of her answers but "I provided the right answers to her questions and I won $16,000."

He identified the loser only as "a singer whose book had just been published."

From three contestants yesterday, the investigating subcommittee received testimony that this show, and its companion "$64,000 Question", were more or less subtly rigged. Both were knocked off the air last year after allegations of rigging other shows became public.

Also on call today is Patty Duke, now 12, who won $16, 000 on the "Challenge" and now is starring in the Broadway play "The Miracle Worker." Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) said if she is heard, it will be behind closed doors.

Talk of Legislation

Expecting to conclude hearings by Thursday noon, committee members already were talking about possible legislation to bar in the future any such deceitful practices as witnesses have imputed to several quiz shows.

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif) said licensing of networks might be one approach. Rep. William L. Springer (R-Ill) said others might be to give the federal communications commission more power over programming, or to fix federal standards for producers, with criminal penalties for violations.

Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Texas) said the committee cannot consider its work ended without making specific legislative recommendations. However, the subcommittee reportedly does not intend to meet for discussion of its report until after congress reconvenes in January.

The testimony about the $64,000 shows yesterday came from the Rev. Charles E. "Stoney" Jackson, Jr., of Tullahoma, Tenn., a crew-cut young minister, and Arthur Cohn, Jr., a New York advertising salesman. Rev. Jackson appeared on both programs, winning a total of $20,000. Cohn said he rejected, as "dirty money," a $250 consolation prize tendered him on the "Challenge" program after he discovered coaching.

Additionally: The subcommittee put into the record a sworn statement by Wilton J. Springer, New York salesman who opposed Cohn on the "Challenge." Springer is recuperating from a heart attack.

The gist of all their testimony was that personnel of the show, without getting contestants to agree to rigging, nevertheless influenced the outcome by "screening" sessions.

At these, they said, selected contestants were fed questions, and sometimes the answers, they would need to win. Among the numerous "warmup" questions would be those asked later on the show, the witnesses said.

Your Problems

Ann Backs Wife's Plea for Hotel Stay, Not With Ex-Wife

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: When I married I knew what I was getting into. My husband had four children by a divorced wife. It was understood that he was to support them until they were 21, and put them through college. I knew, too, they would spend Ann Landers three months out of every year with us.

A few weeks ago my husband decided to drive the two younger children back to their mother's home. The older ones wanted to go by train. Since it's a 400 mile trip we could drive it in one day.

The question came up of where to spend the night once we reached the destination. My husband said "Let's stay with Millie and save the hotel bill." I said, "Absolutely not. I couldn't sleep a wink in her home." He got mad, said I was nuts on the subject and was trying to be mean.

I'll leave it to you. Am I nuts, or do I have a point?—Second Wind

Dear Second: You have a point, indeed. It makes no sense for you to spend the night in the home of your husband's former wife if you're even remotely uncomfortable about it.

Insist on a hotel—and let him save on something else.

DEAR ANN: What can I do about a wife who is reasonable and intelligent about everything but refuses to wear her hearing aid.

It's annoying the way she breaks into conversations and asks questions which were just answered. People who aren't aware that she has a hearing problem think she's not all there.

I'm sure it's a matter of vanity because she's a youthful-looking woman and hates to have those wires and knobs showing. But isn't it better than being only half present? Please tell me what to do.—Up a Tree

Dear Up: There are hearing aids on the market which have no hanging cords or visible amplifiers.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband has two sisters who live at opposite ends of town.

They each have three children. We have not had a Sunday alone that I can remember.

The sisters, their husbands and children drop in every Sunday after church (which is seven blocks from our home). Naturally we must offer them dinner. It's always the same story: "Don't fix anything extra for us. Whatever you have handy is just fine. We aren't company."

Now, Ann Landers, how in God's good name can you feed ten additional people without fixing something extra?

I don't have the nerve to tell them to eat home. Also, Sunday is the only day my husband and I have together as we both work six days a week.

Please advise me.—Trapped Dear Trapped: I don't know what kind of nerve you think it takes to get people to respect your privacy. But if you don't have it, there's precious little anyone can do for you.

Since these women are your husband's sisters it's his place to tell them that Sunday is your only day together and the kids like to have them and you'd be over occasionally but only when specifically invited. He might also suggest they invite you over now and then.

If alcohol is robbing you of someone you love of health and dignity, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.) (Copyright, 1959)

Play Combines Greek Tragedy, Tenements

Elements of high Greek tragedy and the atmosphere of a Brooklyn tenement are combined in Arthur Miller's "A View From The Bridge," first Lawrence college theater production in the new Stansbury theater, scheduled for 8:15 p.m. Nov. 11, 12, 13, and 14.

Miller's one-act production contains, according to the playwright, "several 'fashionable elements' — incestuous motif, homosexuality, and eleven other neurotic patterns." Its charm comes from its bareness, the unswerving path toward climax, and the exposed skeleton of the soul. Only that is told which is cogent and depicts the only part of the lead's life worth noticing. No effort was made to draw in elements of his life that are beneath these, the most tense and meaningful of his hours.

Miller feels the story has its basis in some Greek myth he can't quite remember, and therefore tries to create a "myth-like quality" with which to arouse a feeling of wonderment. Even the simple stage set used on Broadway had a classic style and it did not appear incongruous with the comparatively bleak location of the contemporary episode. Adding to this Grecian sensation is his use of a one-man chorus in the character of Alfieri, a lawyer, who seems to rise above the daily incidents and views them objectively while he notes the seemingly pre-destined climax.

Shows Motives
Object of the production is "not primarily to draw tears or laughter from an audience but to strike a particular note of astonishment at the way in which, and the reasons for which, a man will endanger and risk and lose his very life," says Miller.

According to critics, the

Visit Not Wrong, but Unwise

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I had a date with a young man last evening to go to dinner and the theater. I met him directly from the office. When we met he said that he had to stop by at his apartment (which was a short distance away) to pick up something. I went up with him as I had never seen his apartment. He showed me around and we had a glass of sherry and then left. When I told my mother about this she was furious at my having gone alone to a man's apartment. She said that I should have waited downstairs in the lobby for him. I certainly see no harm in what I did but she is making such an issue of this that I am writing to ask you if what I did was so terribly wrong?

Answer: A generation ago you would have been thought terribly wrong, but times have changed and it is now really up to you to make your own decision as to whether or not you were wrong. In considering your description of what you did and assuming that you were sure the young man has the instincts of a gentleman, I would not say that you were wrong, though perhaps unwise, in risking some possible criticism.

First Initial

Dear Mrs. Post: When a monogram is to be engraved on a baby spoon, which is considered correct—the initial of the first name or the first initial of the last name?

Answer: The initial of the first name is correct.

Five Good Reasons for Swing Bed Style

Fashionable good looks is side rails and a footboard cuts reason enough for choosing a down 460 square inches of double headboard for two space that railed and footed beds, but a taste for them can be backed up by plenty of beds placed in center floor practical reasons. For one thing, the two beds are much more comfortable for two persons. They provide so much more room for each than a double bed, which, at 54 inches wide measures fewer inches per person than a 30-inch army cot. And this way, each person can have the type of mattress he needs and the kind and amount of cover he prefers.

Décorate Sweater At Home

Why not give a fillip to your sweater wardrobe with some individual touches?

The classic pullover or cardigan can become a glamorous garment with some imaginative decoration. You can, of course, embroider a handsome monogram on either, using your automatic sewing machine or zig-zagger attachment. Or you can embroider decorative borders in colors by the same machine method. Broad trimmings also are effective and easy to do. Metallic braids can turn a plain sweater into a festive evening topper.

One of the simplest ways to dress up a sweater is to trim it with narrow woven-edge velvet ribbon in a contrasting color. Local sewing center experts suggest using nylon velvet baby ribbon to applique a plain pullover, stitching it in a wide V-line front and back. Here's how:

Baste ribbon in place, with a backing of organdy on the inside of the sweater. Set your automatic sewing machine for a pretty little scallop stitch. Work along the edges of the ribbon. When scallop stitching is completed, change to a little diamond stitch and work little diamond designs on the ribbon. Tie a bow at the bottom of the V and hand-stitch in place. Trim away excess organdy close to the line of stitching.

This sweater will team with velvet slacks for a glamorous at-home costume, or with a velvet skirt for a festive cocktail outfit.

Toughness in School's Policy Open to Debate

The vast post-Sputnik clamor for new "toughness" in America's schools has set off a chain of actions and reactions. Is this "get-tough" policy good or bad? How is it likely to affect school children — and their parents?

To get meaningful guidelines, we have first to define what "toughness" really is. Says Fred M. Hechinger, noted education writer. Some vociferous get-tough advocates, he points out, are only "sentimentalists-with-teeth" who regard anything beyond the Three R's as just wasteful frills and who associate child psychology with "a generation of weaklings."

Hechinger notes that "the device of real concern and of constructive warning belongs to those who fear that a misinterpretation of 'modern' education may have permitted excess fat to weaken the intellectual muscle." Today's youngsters, they contend, are being measured by a different yardstick, which calls for some tightening of school curricula.

Fewer Electives Where will the changes be most sharply felt? In the high schools and in study habits, the author states, although the new "toughness" will be evidenced all along the line. For high school students, he says, "the real change will be in the fact that the choice of course — and of subjects within the course — will no longer be left to the student. There will be fewer electives and many more required courses. The students whose capacity indicates that he can and should take literature will not be allowed to get away with business English."

Study habits will be strongly altered. In many schools homework is being rediscovered, and prospects are that reading and writing at home will be drastically stepped up. "Homework — up to 16 or even 20 hours a week in high school and in smaller doses in the junior high school and even the upper elementary grades — will open a world of independence and discovery of personal tastes and abilities," Hechinger writes.

From more book learning in elementary school to greater stress on academic subjects, like English, history, science, and mathematics, in junior and senior high schools — this is the kind of toughness for our kids which "is not a threat, but a promise," he says. And Hechinger concludes that harder work "will not be punishment; it should, and can, be exciting."

Prussian Princess To Reign at Ball

BY DOROTHY ROE

Even a princess likes to get out of her homework once in a while—especially to be feted as royal guest of honor at a fabulous ball 6,000 miles from home.

That's the delightful prospect facing 17-year-old Princess Marie Cecile of Prussia, daughter of Prince Louis Ferdinand, head of the house of Hohenzollern, and his wife, the Grand Duchess Kira of Russia.

The pretty schoolgirl will get her first look at America at the Imperial ball in Los Angeles on Saturday night. Interviewed by transatlantic telephone shortly before her departure with her parents, Princess Cecile giggled with excitement.

"I'm delighted to be coming to America," she said. "I want to meet a lot of American young people and see how they live and how they study. I want to see a football game and a basketball game, and I want to visit an American college."

The princess speaks somewhat halting English, but is ably assisted by her linguist father, who lived and worked in America for a time until he was called back to head the house of Hohenzollern after the death of his older brother, Prince Wilhelm, in 1934.

During the three-way telephone interview Prince Louis Ferdinand said: "We hope to show our daughter as much of America as possible in two weeks. That is as long as she can be away from school. I hope she will meet many American young people. We certainly don't want her to stay around with the old folks all the time."

The prince said his daughter is studying sculpture, history of art and music. She is in a grade corresponding to a freshman at an American college.

Asked if he would object if the princess elected to become a career woman, her father laughed heartily.

"But no! Of course not! If she developed a real talent, and wanted to do it, I would be delighted. Of course, I hope she will get married."

What would he say if she married an American?

"I'd say bravo!"

Does the princess have dates and go to dances?

"Well, she has many friends. But her studies keep her very busy. She does not have much time for other things. I would say she does not have as much social life as American girls of her age. We are a little slower here."

Cecile is a good dancer, and loves American music and records. She is more excited over her trip to America than anything that has happened so far in her brief career.

With her parents, she will fly over the North pole, by way of Stockholm directly to Hollywood.

The Imperial ball is an annual Los Angeles social benefit for the War Division of International Social service, headed by movie actress Jane Russell. The international adoption service has placed more than 7,000 homeless children, since its founding in 1955.

doughs and during a 10-minute period it will recover its elasticity for easier shaping.

Add Toppings

Toppings can be added to rolls either before or after baking. Milk glaze, consisting of 1 egg yolk mixed with 2 tbs. milk and sprinkled with granulated sugar, can be added before baking.

A thin sugar icing made from a few tbs. milk combined with sugar should be put on the rolls right after removal from the oven.

Tips on freezing rolls, stolen or tea rings are also being given the Homemakers at their meetings. The frosted or decorated cakes should be placed in the freezer overnight and after the icing or fruits are set, then they should be wrapped in freezer paper and labeled.

Workshops are scheduled for Nov. 10 at the Black Creek Community hall and for the following day at the Greenville grange. Seymour, Nichols, Shiocton and Little Chute centers will attend the Black Creek meeting and the food display at the Greenville grange will be under the direction of Appleton I and II and Dale centers.

KC Squares Host To Area Dancers

The Knights of Columbus Squares will be the host club at the club of the month square dance for November at 9 p. m. tonight at the Sacred Heart Catholic school gym. Herb Johnson will be caller.

Rest is necessary for yeast

Greased Bowl Put dough into the lightly greased bowl and turn it over so the top is greased. Cover and let rise until double in bulk.

Punch the dough down, turn over and let rise again. Shape into rolls, braids, rings or loaves and place in lightly greased pans. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 F.).

The yeast used in the above recipe may either be compressed or active dry yeast. The compressed variety may be kept for a week or two or frozen for longer storage while dry yeast comes in moisture-proof packages and stays fresh for several months. Packages are dated and the yeast should be used before the expiration date.

Milk used may be whole, evaporated or dry, but fresh liquid milk should be scalded to stop enzyme action. Enriched flour adds nutritive value to the breads and fat shortening makes the crust tender and gives a satiny sheen. Sugar is used for quick food for the yeast, flavor and good crust color and salt helps control fermentation.

Eggs help produce a fine texture and flak crust and give a creamy color. Temperature is important in any type of bread and the compressed yeast should be dissolved at 95 F. and active dry yeast at 105 to 110 F.

Kneading the dough is important and flour should be added sparingly. The dough should be resilient and when kneaded enough, it will look slightly blistered under the surface.

We read every day about charitable foundations that can't decide how to spend their money. Why hasn't anybody told them to set up a school for bridge cheerleaders? The right-kind of cheer might have made all the difference in today's hand.

Idealized Beau

"...for two years I have been seeing the writer of the enclosed note. He seems very worthwhile, has high ideals and enjoys the really fine things of life. He is exceedingly moody, however. Although this does not particularly annoy me I would appreciate knowing how to cope with these moods."

Moodiness does show in the uneven baseline of his handwriting and the next slants upward. There is little you can do except keep the sweet disposition evident in your own writing.

You seem to feel that your own virtues are also your friend's. According to his writing he thinks the "really cannot be acknowledged, but fine things of life" are the most interesting ones will be used in her column.

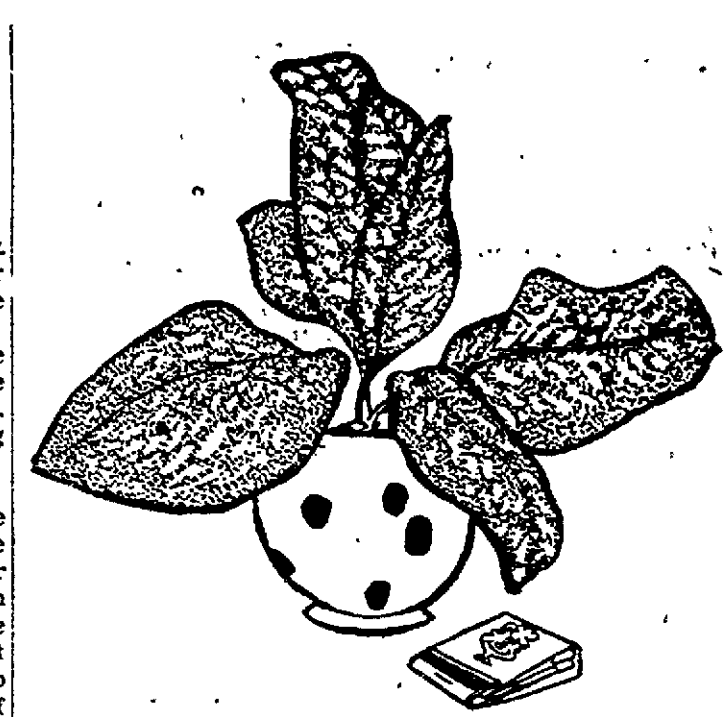

You may be idealizing him to an unwise extent. To reproduce your friend's handwriting it is necessary to include several lines because his lower loops are so long and full. This gives his writing a confused appearance as contrasted with your own clear-cut script. He is emotionally restless, not ready to "settle down."

When one writer exaggerates lower loops and the other accents upper loops their aspirations are opposed.

You need a home and children to be happy. Unless he is ready to "set the date," realize that you may be wasting your time on him.

Miss Stafford welcomes letters from her readers. They cannot be acknowledged, but fine things of life are the most interesting ones will be used in her column.

Dieffenbachia

Indoor Gardening

Keep Dieffenbachia on Dry Side, Advises Plant Expert

By Katherine B. Walker

One of the best and most spectacular of all the variegated foliage plants today is dieffenbachia. A whole indoor garden could be made of a collection of the different varieties.

Only a few years ago, dieffenbachias were almost unknown to the general public, and few growers listed more than one or two species.

The most important thing to remember in growing dieffenbachias is to keep them on the dry side. If you have a good eye for such things, you can let the plant go without water until it just begins to wilt a trifle; then water it amply, and allow it to go again until almost dry before giving more water. If you're not sure you can spot the first signs of wilting, then let the soil get dry on the surface before watering.

Like Loamy Soil
Dieffenbachias like a loamy soil, which has enough humus in it to retain some moisture but which will drain readily, as they cannot stand having the soil wet for long around their roots. They need bright light in order to develop full coloration, but sunlight through a window will scorch their leaves, so choose their place carefully. Pay no attention to persons who tell you these plants don't need much light; inadequate lighting will result in small leaves and spindly stalks.

If leaf-tips turn brown, it indicates dry air. However, the air in your home may not be too dry, actually; the plant may be where a draft blows and dries it out. It will be normal for some of the older, lower leaves to fall, but good care should give you a plant well-furnished with leaves set close together along the stalk. If your plant is now looking straggly, cut off the top portion and root (in water, if you wish); then, when roots are evident, pot it up and give it the right care. In a short time, you'll have a magnificent plant.

Questions and Answers
I notice that after I water some of my plants, drops of water fall from the leaf-tips, even though I am careful not to wet the foliage. Is this some disease? How can it be cured?

This is not a sign of disease. As you know, leaves transpire moisture all the time; normally, this evaporates as soon as it forms, and we never notice it. But sometimes, if a plant is over-watered, or if the air is excessively humid and evaporation does not take place rapidly, the moisture condenses and forms drops which are then noticeable.

I have tried your method for removing mealy-bug, by lifting off each one with a cotton swab dipped in alcohol. It doesn't work. It will work, but you must do it every day or so for two or three weeks, until no more mealy-bugs appear.

What is the cigar plant? What care does it need?
Cigar flower is Cuphea platycentra. It needs ordinary soil, bright light, and ample moisture.

I can't get my African violets to bloom. I have them in a north window, on a pebble tray, and feed them every week but they don't do very well.

First, African violets enjoy early morning sun, and will refuse to set buds unless they are given sufficient light. Try moving them to an east window. Having them on a pebble-tray, to increase humidity is fine, but don't let them get water-logged. I think you are feeding them too often, although you didn't say whether you were giving very light feedings or regular ones.

There is a new product available by mail which stimulates the formation of buds (of course, nothing will overcome poor growing conditions); if you wish the name and address where it may be obtained, please send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Katherine Walker will be glad to answer questions pertaining to house plants, but regrets she will be unable to answer those dealing with outdoor varieties. In writing her, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

The Visiting Nurse Says

Destroy Plastic Bags To Prevent Possible Deaths

Each year, according to the Public Health service of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, many thousands of children die as a result of accidents from all causes. The department states, "suffocation and choking are the most frequently reported causes of accidental deaths of children under one year of age. However, doctors now believe that in a great many instances of reported suffocation the child really died not from lack of air to breathe, but from some rapid, overwhelming infection."

The society of the Plastics Industry, incorporated, recommends that parents eliminate any possibility of accidental suffocation from thin plastic film by keeping it away from infants and children. Once it has served its intended usefulness, it should not be left around the house or given to infants or young children as a plaything. Recent reports indicate young children playing with this film become enmeshed in it and may suffocate themselves.

Plastic film is used for packaging a variety of consumer products... fruits and vegetables, clothing, toys, candies, baked goods, hardware and sporting goods. But, after it has served its original intended usefulness, it should be discarded.

Approved mattress covers are available in stores. Thin plastic film is not designed for makeshift covering and should not be used for this purpose.

It will be generally fair east of the Mississippi river tonight except for some light rain and snow flurries in the northeast. Snow is in prospect for the northern Rocky mountain states. Rain mixed with light snow is predicted for the northern plains.

Snow in Fox Cities Forecast

Gusty winds blew cold air across the Fox Cities today and brought a promise of snow.

The cold air covered areas from the Great Lakes to the lower Mississippi valley and east to the Atlantic coast. Low in the Fox Cities was 39 today with the high 42 Monday.

Wisconsin Climatology today recorded these unusual events during October in the state. Heaviest precipitation came

Oct. 23 and 24 with heavy rain in the south, rain and snow mixed in the central area and heavy snow in the north; tornadoes Oct. 8 near Appleton and Franksville and sighting of a funnel cloud near Germantown; lightning near Sun Prairie Oct. 22 and at Racine the same date.

Badgers Climb To Ninth Place In Football Poll

Wildcats Remain Second Behind Louisiana State

By The Associated Press

The University of Wisconsin, facing its major test of the season Saturday, holds down ninth place today in the Associated Press poll of casters.

The Badgers moved up from tenth place a week ago with a total of 446 points.

This is the week of decision for the teams ranking highest in the poll. Louisiana State, Northwestern, Syracuse and Penn State should know by Saturday night whether they can hope to go all the way.

Louisiana State just finished a harrowing test, beating Mississippi 17-3 on a last-quarter touchdown and then held.

Neenah — The Mid-Eastern conference concludes its 1959 schedule with two games Wednesday and another pair Saturday, but the champion or champions won't be known until Saturday night.

Both co-leaders are at home Saturday; Neenah in an afternoon contest against Shawano and Clintonville against Two Rivers in an arc-lighter.

2 Wednesday Tests

Wednesday's tests, neither of which will have any bearing on the title race, are Menasha at New London and Kaukauna at Kimberly. Both are afternoon tangles.

Of the two games involving the leaders, Neenah figures to have the most competition. Shawano (4-2) is enjoying its best season since 1952 when it finished with 5-2. The Indians lost to Clintonville by two touchdowns and to Kaukauna by one in the final three minutes.

Menasha passed for 95 yards in losing to the Rockets last weekend and Shawano has one of the best aerial games in the league.

The Trunkers, after scoring 40 or more points in beating Menasha and Kimberly, showed no letdown in eliminating Kaukauna from title contention. Two Rivers lost by five and nine points in its last two starts but seemingly doesn't have the horses to cope with Clintonville's power.

Eyes Third Place

Kaukauna attempts to nail down third place at Kimberly. A Papermaker victory plus a Shawano loss to Neenah would result in a 3-way tie for the third spot.

New London bids to escape the cellar at Menasha's expense as it tries to duplicate the feat of the 1957 Bulldog team which beat the Jays a couple of days after the latter lost to Neenah.

A New London win and a Two Rivers defeat by Clintonville would result in a 3-way deadlock for sixth, seventh and eighth.

Pick Bragan To Succeed Dessen

Los Angeles — Brash Bobby Bragan returns to the scene of some of his more colorful exploits next season when he assumes a coaching role with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The one time Hollywood manager in the Pacific Coast league was named Monday to replace Charlie Dessen who recently signed to pilot the Milwaukee Braves.

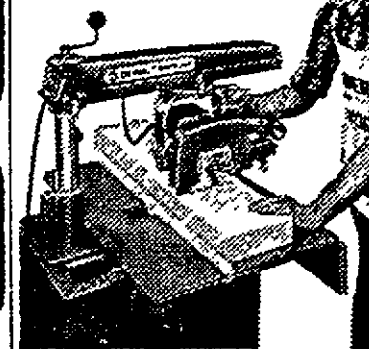

Bragan, 42, played eight years of major league ball and managed two teams — Pittsburgh and Cleveland. He was head man at Hollywood for three years and piloted Spokane in the Pacific Coast league last season.

NOTES and NOTIONS

Guessing Scoreboard

LAST WEEK				SEASON'S TOTALS
Hits	Misses	Ties	Pct.	Hits	Misses	Ties	Pct.
19	7	1	73.1	104	44	6	70.3

With one-quarter of our schedule being played Wednesday, we had to get this week's picking done early. This is the "last roundup" for 1959—and after having the limb sawed off beneath me on several upset predictions last week, perhaps it's just as well.

Bears over Packers — The vengeful Bruins will be too hot to handle in their own "den." With their games with Baltimore and the West coast trip out of the way, the tough Bears could conceivably go unbeaten the rest of the way.

Wisconsin over Northwestern — After taking a much-needed and nearly fatal mental and physical "breather" in the Michigan game, the Badgers should be ready to unleash their full power (there's no next week if they don't do it this week). However, it will take nothing short of a combination of Wisconsin's offense against Iowa and defense against Ohio State to upset the mighty 'Cats.

Marquette over North Dakota State — The Warriors will never get a better chance to break the victory ice.

St. Olaf over Lawrence — The Northfield school owns an excellent football team and a long-standing home jinx over the Vikes. But, with a few breaks, the battling Vikes could tip over the dope bucket.

Appleton over Manitowoc — The Terrors figure to profit by their Fond du Lac game experience and "start moving" earlier against the Ships to put the right cap on a highly-successful season. Besides, there's the long-shot possibility of a win (or a tie) by East over West, which would open the championship door for AHS.

Neenah over Shawano — This won't be at all easy, but with the coveted title (or co-title) so near, the unbeaten Rockets will be shooting high in this one.

Clintonville over Two Rivers — The power-packed Trunkers figure to steam-roller the Raiders in climaxing a great season and nailing down at least a share of the title.

Kaukauna over Kimberly — Statistically, the Ghosts have by far the better of it, but the usual intensity of this intra-Fox Cities brawl ought to make it a close game.

Menasha over New London — The stage again appears set for a possible Bulldog-engineered upset. But, Menasha, remembering what happened in '57, will be better prepared — and the Jays probably have a better offense than New London.

Other FRVC games — West over East, Central over North, Oshkosh over Fond du Lac.

Other MC games — Coe over Carleton, Ripon over Grinnell, Knox over Beloit, Cornell over Monmouth.

'Storm' Defense Led To Packer Downfall

Giants Handled Bays' Line With Ease

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Tuesday Quarterback: The Packers' Lamar McHan was hurled for a 9-yard loss by Giant Andy Robustelli and company midway in the third quarter. On the ground on each side of McHan were the Packers' two tackles, Forrest Gregg and Bob Skoronski.

McHan faded back and into his loss when the blocking collapsed. The two 250-pound tackles were pushed back most of the way.

That gives you an idea of how the Giants handled the Packer line when they decided to storm.

The Giants used what they call the "storm" defense. Packer coach Vince Lombardi told New York writers that "it was the best defensive game I ever saw the Giants play." He added: "I'll admit this was our poorest offensive game of the year, but maybe their defense had something to do with it."

The Packers wound up with 69 yards rushing and 112 yards passing for their lowest offensive totals this season. Green Bay reached its low point in the second half 21 yards rushing, 21 yards passing, two first downs, and two completions in 15 pass attempts.

Compare those with the Packers' totals in the first half — 48 yards rushing, 81 yards passing, seven first downs, and five completions in 11 attempts.

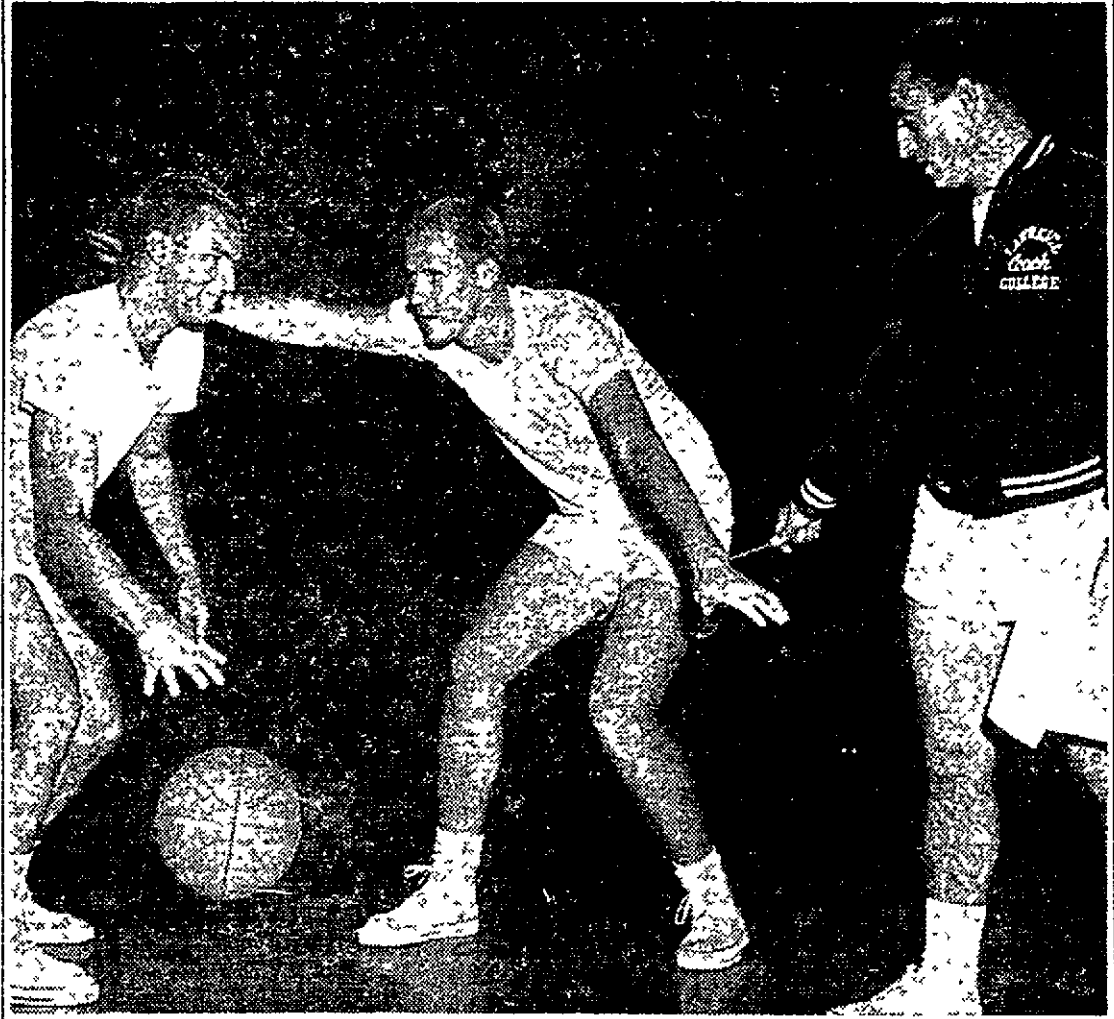

The Giants' offense wasn't much better and that's a compliment to the Packers' defense which hardly could be blamed for 13 points — the two

Defense, Taylor Bright Spots For Packers in Loss to Giants

Fullback Should Be in Top Shape For Bear Game

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — The Packers' loss to the Giants revealed two returning bright spots today: (1) defense and (2) Jim Taylor.

Green Bay, you know, had been clipped for 83 points in successive losses to the Rams and Colts. The Giants finished with 20 but our defenders hardly could be charged with one of the touchdowns (on a fumble on the Packer 3) and the two 49-yard field goals.

Before the Rams and Colts piled up 11 touchdowns, the Packers had given up only three TDs in successive wins over the Bears, Lions and 49ers. The performance vs. New York indicates that the Bays' defense has found the touch again.

Actually, the Packers had four defensive showings in four of the six games in the first half of the season. The record very easily could have been a corresponding 4-2 but for a lack of offense vs. the Giants.

Returns to Lineup But that's where Taylor comes in. The hard-cracking fullback, who burned his hand and foot in a home accident the Tuesday after the club's second game, unexpectedly returned to the lineup in New York.

Jim, still 10 pounds underweight Sunday and perhaps a bit weak by pro football standards, carried twice and turned in the Bays' longest run from scrimmage, 12 yards. On

Reese Replaces Blattner as Dean's Partner

New York — After 20 years as player and coach with the Dodgers, "Pee Wee" Reese is quitting the club to become a baseball telecaster. It was learned today. Official announcement of the switch will be made Thursday.

The 39-year-old veteran from Louisville has signed a 2-year contract to join "Diz" Dean in handling the commentary of the CBS Games of the Week on Saturdays and Sundays. Reese replaces "Buddy" Blattner, a former major league infielder.

Reese will receive $32,000 a year under the contract which has a 2-year option after the first two years. He received an estimated $18,000 salary as LA coach.

Without mentioning names, California Athletic Director Greg Engelhard said, "Certainly we are going to follow it up with USC officials. It is a delicate subject between two schools and will be discussed privately."

Southern California Coach Don Clark flatly refuted the charge, saying, "It's certainly regrettable when any boy is injured. A review of the films with our university administrators indicates no mis-

The Wildcats, the nation's No. 2 team, posted their fourth straight Big Ten victory with a 30-13 triumph over Indiana Saturday. Wisconsin, ranked ninth nationally, took its third in four conference starts with a 19-10 victory over Michigan.

Intercept 6 Passes Pass defense, which has shown an amazing improvement, helped turn the trick at Ann Arbor. The alert Badgers snagged six Wolverine aerials, turning two of them into touchdowns.

Wisconsin had an almost porous pass defense during its first four games. Opponents completed 65 of 107 passes, gaining 797 yards.

In the Ohio State and Michigan games the long hours of drilling on pass defense began paying off. These two conference opponents completed only eight of 37 aerials for a gain of 71 yards.

Wisconsin players intercepted eight in the two games. The Wolverines gained only 15 yards in the air in completing four of 21.

Northwestern will be a sterner test because it has a better passing offense than either Michigan or the Buckeyes. John Talley can be expected to give the Badger defenders lots of trouble through the air.

Saturday's game at Evans-ton will go a long way toward deciding the Big Ten championship.

A Wisconsin victory would give the two teams identical 4-1 conference marks, with each having two games remaining. A Wildcat victory would mean Northwestern would need only one victory out of its last two to steal the title.

NBA Eying Expansion to 15 Quintets

Chicago Definitely Set for Next Year; Pittsburgh Possible

New York — The National Basketball association, expansion-minded like the rest of the professional leagues, may go to 12 teams in 1961 and to 15 teams thereafter, President Maurice Podoloff says.

Now an 8-team league with two divisions of four teams each, the NBA will definitely add one new member—Chicago—next year and possibly two, if Pittsburgh is ready by then.

But that's only the beginning, Podoloff says.

Long Range
"Our long range plan calls for a 3-division setup of five teams each, one division in the East, another in the Midwest and a third on the West coast," he told the Associated Press Monday.

"Next year, we will have five teams in the Western division. Chicago joining regulars Detroit, Minneapolis, Cincinnati and St. Louis. If Pittsburgh joins us, it would give us five in the East (joining New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Syracuse). We would need three other cities to come in with Los Angeles and San Francisco to make up the West coast divisions."

Podoloff said he plans to meet with a representative from Portland, Ore., next week.

Chicago — Gene Gresham, 138, Detroit, stopped Joey Reynolds, 136, St. Louis, 4.

Official Insists 'Skins Didn't Get Touchdown

Washington Coach Says Movies Show Linesman Wrong

Philadelphia — The Charley Berry, head linesman who called the controversial final minute play in Sunday's Redskins National Football league contest, insisted today that Washington did not score as it claims.

"I've been officiating 20 years," Berry declared. "I know what I saw. I had a good view. Boesseler didn't score."

Almost Fumbled
Washington Coach Mike Nixon and his staff claimed that movies of the 30-23 Eagles' victory showed that fullback Don Boesseler scored a touchdown on the second play with the ball less than a foot away from the goal. The Eagles line held on two line backs to win.

"We ran the movie 20 times," asserted backfield assistant Bill McPeak. "Don was two feet in the end zone. His forward motion never stopped. It was the most obvious touchdown I've seen in 19 years of football."

But here's the way Berry explained it:
"When quarterback Eddie LeBaron handed off to Boesseler on that play there was some trouble. They almost fumbled and Boesseler couldn't get his hands on the ball quickly. Meantime, the Eagle line stopped the play cold. I

Arnett Will Start At End Sunday

Los Angeles — Jon Arnett will start at end against the San Francisco 49ers.

Rams Coach Sid Gillman said Monday Arnett will replace end 'Red' Phillips, who was injured in Sunday's game against the Chicago Bears.

The 49ers, leading the National Football league's Western division with a 5-1 record, aren't over-confident about Sunday's game against the Rams, who have won two and lost four.

They'll Do It Every Time

Glen Miller Says Rigney Deserves Credit for Fine Chisox Farm System

Kaukauna Native Is Modest About His Own Role as Club's Minor League Director

Chicago — The tumult and the shouting over the White Sox could continue here for years. So indicated the man who is unquestionably in the best position to predict what may be in the Comiskey future. He is Glen C. Miller, the director of the Sox minor league clubs.

While boss man Bill Veech was out searching for sluggers, Miller was sitting in his Comiskey park office, pointing out that the Sox could have a championship dynasty in the making primarily because of an excellent farm system.

Lost '4 or '5
"The fellow who deserves the credit for setting up the system," Miller explained, "is John Rigney. He was our first farm director, starting in 1947 and remaining for seven years. Many of the players on our varsity were scouted and signed when Rigney was in charge of our farms."

Miller, no slouch himself, was modest about his own accomplishments, saying, "We're basically following the same pattern which Rigney originally introduced." That pattern, Miller said, was going really wanted during the last five or six years."

One of these boys, Miller said, was Dennis Menke, a schoolboy shortstop from Bancroft, Ia., who eventually signed with the Braves. Rigney, himself, went after Manke and offered him $116,000—the biggest offer ever made in Comiskey history. Menke later played for Cedar Rapids of the Three-I league.

Miller also said that the Sox are continually beefing up their scouting department. They have a staff of 22 full-time scouts and ten part-timers. They are supplemented by about 100 bird dogs.

The club's most productive scout these past few years has been Hollis Thurston. Thurston works the West coast area along with Doc Bennett and signed Barry Latman, Earl Battey and John Callison. He was also in on the signing of Jim Landis, who submitted for a $2,500 bonus.

Bat .750 On Signings
The Chisox ratio of successful signings is about 3 to 1 in the Hose's favor, according to Miller. "We don't keep any figures on such things," Miller said, "but I would have to estimate that we sign three out of every four we really want."

One of the reasons for this, Miller emphasized, could be

Kerr Is Blasted for Retiring Round Table Before Big Race

New York — Round Table, horse racing's Mr. Moneybags, heads for Kentucky and retirement Wednesday, leaving officials of Laurel race course at Laurel, Md., bitter at his owner.

Travis M. Kerr, Oklahoma City oilman, confirmed Monday night that Round Table had run his last race when he was beaten seven lengths by Sword Dancer in Saturday's $110,600 Jockey club Gold cup at Aqueduct.

Final Race
Previously he had accepted an invitation to start Round Table, the world's all-time money winner, in the $100,000 Washington, D. C., International Nov. 11 at Laurel. That was to have been his final race in a test against foreign rivals. Round Table earned $1,749,869 in four years of racing, winning 43 of 66 starts.

"This man Kerr has been giving us the business for three years," said Joseph Cascarella, Laurel executive vice president. Laurel was ad-

Kramer Forgets to Give His Wife the Car Keys

Green Bay — Jerry Kramer has received a good deal of ribbing about an incident that happened while the Packers were departing for New York last Friday afternoon.

The chartered plane was warming up on the "launching pad" at Austin Straubel field when Capt. "Bud" Smith noticed the team that he'd have to taxi back to the terminal.

"Mr. Jerry Kramer has the keys to the family car in his pocket, and his wife can't get home," said Smith. Smith threw the keys out the cockpit window in front of the terminal and then went back to the outer runway.

Half Million in '59 Bonuses
"He figures he'll need three or maybe four years in the minors. He has confidence in his ability in reaching the big leagues by 1963 or '64—but he says he may even reach the Big Time sooner if he has the opportunity of getting instruction from Lopez."

Obviously, the Sox owe much of their pennant success to the farm system and men such as Rigney and Miller. Rigney, of course, is no longer officially connected with the club. His wife, Dorothy, sold her 54 per cent holdings to Veech and his syndicate last spring.

Has the farm system continued to prosper under Veech?

"Oh, yes," Miller replied. "He and Chuck (Comiskey) have never once turned us down when we suggested a big bonus. We spent a half-million dollars in player procurement this past season."

It seems likely that the Sox will get considerable help in 1960 from some of their farmhands. One or two of them, in fact, could break into the regular lineup.

No. 1 prospect, of course, is Johnny Callison, the slugging outfielder who now has two seasons of Triple-A ball under his belt. Chances are that next year Callison will alternate in left field with Jim McAnany, another farm product.

Miller is also high on J. C. Martin, 22, who this past season made the jump from Class C to Triple-A—and at a new position. Originally a first baseman, Martin played third at Indianapolis and displayed good power and fielding poise.

Still another top prospect is Camilo Carreon, a 21-year-old catcher. He batted .342 with the 1958 pennant-winning Colorado Springs club in the Western league and last season was voted the All-Star catcher in the American association.

Lions' John Henry Johnson Suspended for Missing Plane

Detroit — John Henry Johnson, the Detroit Lions' AWOL fullback, popped up here Monday night to learn he had been suspended indefinitely from the National Football league club.

Johnson had missed the team plane from San Francisco Sunday night after the Lions had been defeated there, 33-7, by the 49ers. Coach George Wilson immediately suspended Johnson.

Johnson was not available for comment.

Wilson said when Johnson reappeared as mysteriously as he had vanished the fullback would miss Sunday's game with Pittsburgh and possibly more.

In Oakland, Calif., meanwhile, a Superior court bench warrant was awaiting Johnson. It was issued on the complaint of Johnson's divorced wife, Barbara, who charged he was $2,360 arrear in alimony and other payments. Johnson has five small children.

Illini's Burrell OK 'Cat Guard Abatiello To Miss UW Contest

Chicago — Midwest football briefs:

Northwestern — Guard Joe Abatiello will miss the Wisconsin game because of a sprained ankle. He'll be replaced by junior Russ Asala.

Illinois — Guard Bill Burrell showed no effects of a knee injury which forced him to leave the Purdue game. The Illini expect to be in top shape for Michigan.

Iowa — Drills for the rest of the week will be held behind closed doors. Coach Forest Evashevski put the Hawkeyes through a rugged scrimmage. Backs Don Horn and Ray Jauch were nursing minor injuries.

Ohio State — The Michigan State victory brought no injuries. The Buckeyes, in sweat suits, operated on defense against Indiana-type plays.

Purdue — The starting and alternate units were given a day off. End Richard Brooks and center Sam Joyner were being treated for injuries. Brooks has a sprained ankle and Joyner a sprained hand.

Indiana — Coach Phil Dickens told his Indiana team that it can't afford the type of mistakes the Hoosiers made against Northwestern. The Hoosiers worked on defense against Ohio State's ground attack.

Minnesota — Guard Tom Brown suffered a leg injury against Vanderbilt and will probably be lost for the Iowa game if not for the season.

Mestnik, Webster Have Hip Injuries

Milwaukee — The Marquette football squad held a short drill Monday and then looked at movies of last week's loss to Oklahoma State.

Coach Lisle Blackburn said fullback Frank Mestnik and halfback Jim Webster were out with hip injuries but should be ready for Saturday's game here with North Dakota State.

conduct on the part of Mike McKeever.

Elliott saw a different picture of the play during USC's 14-7 victory Saturday on which Bates was injured in the second quarter. The California coach claimed McKeever piled into Bates and hit him in the face with an elbow after the halfback was down and out of bounds.

Bates was hospitalized with a broken cheekbone and nose. Physicians said he will undergo surgery.

At Monday's meeting of the Northern California Football Writers and Broadcasters association, Elliott said that last year McKeever drew a 15-yard penalty for a similar foul against quarterback Joe Kapp and had committed three flagrant rule violations in the past two games.

The 220-pound junior guard was ejected from the Stanford game two weeks ago and was tossed out of the California game in the fourth period for roughing quarterback Pete Olson.

Reviewed Movies

In Los Angeles, Clark told the weekly meeting of football writers that he had spent eight hours reviewing films of the first half of the California-USC game and found "no indication of misconduct."

Clark said the films showed McKeever made a rolling tackle of Bates "and he wasn't

White Sox Obtain Frank Baumann

Chicago — The Chicago White Sox picked up a much-needed left handed pitcher Monday when they swapped first baseman Ron Jackson to Boston for Frank Baumann.

Baumann, 26, was signed by the Red Sox in 1952 for a reported $90,000 bonus. He compiled a 6-4 record last year including a pair of 6-hit victories over Baltimore and Detroit.

A sequence of still pictures in San Francisco indicated Bates had been tripped up and was on the ground as McKeever approached.

Tom Hamilton, executive officer of the new Athletic Association of Western Universities, said, "I'm sure young McKeever regrets very much that Bates was hurt. I don't believe a public forum in this type of matter does the game of football any good."

Horvath Moves Into 1st Place In NHL Scoring

Montreal — Boston's "Bronco" Horvath clicked for five points last week to move into a first-place tie with Bernie "Boom Boom" Geoffrion of Montreal in the National Hockey league scoring race.

The Bruins' center collected four goals and one assist to boost his point output to 15, league figures showed today. Geoffrion was limited to one goal during the week.

Horvath has scored 10 goals, most in the league, and has contributed five assists. Jerry Toppazzini of Boston and Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers are tied for third with 13 points.

Terry Sawchuk, Detroit Red Wings goalie, has given up 15 goals in 11 games for a league-leading 1.36 average.

Philadelphia — Willie Gray, 155, Washington, outpointed Fred Terry, 155, Philadelphia, 8.

Northwestern '11' Goes From Humiliation to Honor in Four Years

Holcomb, Parseghian, Increased Recruiting Program Bring About Grid Rejuvenation

By Charles Chamberlain

Evanston, Ill. — Four years ago, a Northwestern campus publication suggested that the university drop out of the Big Ten because it could not field a representative football team.

Today, the Wildcats have gone from humiliation to honor. They have won six straight games for the first time since ing off Ole Miss in a goal line stand to remain the No. 1 team in the poll.

Now the Chinese Bandits and Billy Cannon face another vital game Saturday with Tennessee, beaten by Georgia Tech and tied by Alabama. If LSU gets past this game, only off-beaten Mississippi State and Tulane bar the door to another perfect campaign and the Sugar Bowl.

LSU received 132 first place votes among the 202 cast in the poll. It was the fourteenth straight time the Tigers have been the No. 1 club, including a pre-season ballot.

Northwestern, the No. 2 club, showed impressively against Indiana, 30-13 with its crippled back in the line-up. They may need everything they have Saturday when they meet once-beaten Wisconsin.

The unofficial Eastern title will be at stake Saturday at University Park, Pa., when Syracuse (6-0) plays Penn State (7-0), a pairing of the No. 4 team and the No. 7 team in the nation.

The only new entry in the top 10 this week is Clemson which took over tenth place after beating Rice 19-0. Georgia Tech, knocked off by Duke, 10-7, dropped all the way from ninth to nineteenth.

Storm Defense Chills Packers

49-yard field goals by Pat Summerall and the gift touchdown produced by Don McIlhenny's loss of his fumble on the Packer three.

The Giants' lone "drive" touchdown was set up by an interference penalty on Alex Webster by Bob Freeman on the Packer seven at the start of the second half.

"Chuck" Conerly was "picking on" Freeman a good deal of the time, and Hank Gremminger replaced him the next time New York got the ball in hopes that the emphasis would be shifted to some other territory.

The Packers came up with their first interception in three games and there was a touch of irony for two reasons: it was made behind the line of scrimmage (by Jim Temp, thanks to a tackle by Bill Forester) and came with only a minute left to play!

The Packers couldn't buy a break in Yankee stadium. The interception just wasn't up for sale! Each team fumbled twice. The Giants, of course, recovered both of theirs; the Packers lost their two.

Temp's interception was enjoyed about five seconds. On the next play Jim Taylor fumbled and Sam Huff recovered.

Things happened bad "down deep" for the Bays — Don McIlhenny's lost fumble on the Packer 3, Paul Hornung's field goal bouncing off the upright clipping on Em Tunnell on Bobby Dillon's 10-yard runback of a short field goal from the Packer two, and the interference by Freeman.

his next carry however, Taylor fumbled three yards away from a touchdown in the last few seconds. That would have made the score 20-10.

The muscular balance-wheel in the Packer backfield will be at top condition when the Packers battle their traditional foe, the Bears, in Chicago next Sunday. Jim's hand has a new layer of skin, requiring no bandage. The top of his burned foot has a "crust" and is healing well.

Johnny Symank came out of the game with a broken nose, but it won't bother him for the Bear game. Symank made a couple of jarring tackles on the punt and kickoff platoons, ran back kickoffs and wound up replacing Bobby Dillon late in the game. Dillon, picked up a pinched nerve in his arm—plus a swat in the face.

Emilen Tunnell came up with a stiff neck, which likely will be okay for the Bears.

A long look at the game pictures with aides Norb Hecker, Phil Bengston, Bill Austin and "Red" Cochran confirmed what Lombardi suspected:

"We played good enough on defense to win, but they overpowered our offense, forcing us to throw," Vince said.

Lombardi is a firm believer in running to victory, mixing the ground and aerial weapons. And there was a good example of that in Baltimore Sunday. The Browns had the best runner and some passing; the Colts had the best passing and no running. Cleveland won!

Interest Payments Cut Into Budget

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Out of every $1 you're handing in income taxes to the federal government this year, an all-time peak chunk of more than 11 cents is going to pay those who own U.S. government securities.

Interest on the national debt now is absorbing $9 billion of this year's total budget of around $79 billion.

This is a full billion more than President Eisenhower estimated would go to debt interest when he submitted the 1960 budget in January.

This is a slice second only to the amount earmarked for all national security, including military aid abroad.

Outranks Others
This is a sum exceeding the combined outlay for aid to housing and business, spending on labor, welfare, education, dams, rivers, harbors. This is a sum which tops by billions what the government is spending for veterans' aid or for farm supports.

This compares to an annual interest payment of $1 billion in 1940, is almost double the yearly load as recently as the close of World war II.

So who is getting the $9 billion in interest this year? Here is a breakdown from the treasury's own calculations of the ownership of $284.8 billion of outstanding securities issued or guaranteed by the U.S. government as of mid-1959:

Commercial Banks
The biggest single group of beneficiaries covers the nation's thousands of commercial banks. They own $61.3 billion of government securities outstanding, are collecting tens of millions of dollars in interest on these securities this year.

The second biggest single group of beneficiaries covers the nation's millions of owners of "savings bonds." Partnerships and personal trust accounts, as well as individuals own around $47 billion of savings bonds. When you cash in a $75 bond for $100, the extra you get is interest and our tax dollars have provided it for you.

The third biggest beneficiary is the government itself. For the government's investment accounts — such as the social security fund — own $54.6 billion of U.S. Securities and collect interest on them just as any private individual does. Federal Reserve banks own another $25 billion of U.S. securities, collect interest too, and after they've earned a specified amount Federal Reserve banks return practically all their earnings to the treasury.

Others Benefit
Other large beneficiaries are the nation's thousands of corporations, of savings, and loan associations, of savings banks, of insurance companies, of pension funds, of state and local government funds.

It might be argued that all of us who have cash in a savings institution, insurance company, are indirectly beneficiaries of the higher interest paid on the national debt. A banker might say, for instance, that he couldn't pay so fat a rate on your account if his institution didn't earn so much on its securities.

Nevertheless, the fact is that the only direct beneficiaries of the $9 billion in interest payments this year are the owners of U.S. securities. The fact is that as you are reading this the treasury is replacing a multibillion dollar batch of maturing IOUs with new IOUs paying much higher interest rates, and the only immediate beneficiaries are the buyers of the new IOUs.

And the fact is that there is no sign of any lessening of the burden on us of carrying our national debt.

5 Fox Cities Women Named to Committee

VNA Announces Appointments to Unit for Peabody Manor Project

The Visiting Nurse Association of Appleton announced Monday appointment of five Fox Cities women to a newly created Home Advisory committee.

The new group's function will be to stimulate community interest in Peabody Manor, resident home for retired persons that VNA plans to build on W. Fifth street by 1963. The announcement was made at the afternoon meeting of the Peabody Manor committee at VNA house.

Appointed to 2-year terms were Mrs. Joseph A. Foley, Appleton; Mrs. William E. Buchanan, Menasha; Mrs. Samuel N. Pickard, Neenah; Mrs. D. W. Curtin, Kimberly; and Mrs. Hollis G. Whitman, Kaukauna.

The new committee has 3-fold duties.

Members will serve on various sub-committees concerned with the building program to become familiar with progress made thus far on the proposed resident home. They will help establish volunteer committees for the area-wide fund drive and community campaign scheduled for next January. They also will have a part in formulating policies and plans for Peabody Manor.

Part of their job will be to acquaint people in the communities they represent with the need for the home, plans and data concerning it.

Active in Community
Each of the five new committee members has long been active in community work. Mrs. Foley is a past president of VNA, a member of the St. Elizabeth Hospital auxiliary and a board member of Appleton United Community Services. She has been active in Girl Scouts and served in 1957 as residential co-chairman of the Community Fund drive.

Mrs. Buchanan also is a past president of VNA and is a member of Infant Welfare circle of King's Daughters, which founded the Visiting Nurse association in Appleton. She has served the state King's Daughters organization and the Blood Bank as president. Her present interests include directorships in the State Children's Service society and the Memorial Hospital organization.

Mrs. Pickard is active in the First Presbyterian church of Neenah, United Church Women and works on behalf of Wayland academy and Ripon college. She is a member of the State Historical society, AAUW and the Emergency society. She has served as a director of the Neenah VNA and the Neenah YWCA and former was active in Girl Scout work.

Sees Win for Democrats in Sixth District

James Megellas Claims Shift of Strength Apparent

Chilton — James Megellas, Fond du Lac, 1958 Democratic Sixth district congressional candidate, predicted a 1960 party victory in the Sixth district, at a Calumet county Democratic meeting here Monday night.

He said there was a strong shift toward the Democratic party in the district, especially in the rural areas.

Megellas, president of the Fond du Lac city council, also discussed the Lake Winnebago water level which, he said, was endangered when Fond du Lac sought state permission to divert lake water to help a critical water shortage. Megellas outlined his efforts to block diversion and restore the city's water supply by other means.

Pick Delegates
County delegates to the state Democratic convention at Milwaukee, Nov. 13, 14 and 15, were named. They are Clinton Schultz and Margaret Krautkramer, Hilbert; Paul Schwalbach, Harrison; and Edward Eick, Lucille Flemming, Donald Bonk and John Barnett, Chilton.

Alternates are Mel Bloom, president of Kimberly, is a past president of the Outagamie County Medical auxiliary and a former member and past president of Service circle, King's Daughters.

Mrs. Whitman has many community interests. She is a member of the Kaukauna Hospital auxiliary, vice president of her Parent-Teacher association, president of Band Mothers and a former Girl Scout leader and Cub Scout den mother. She participates in Girl Scout and cancer drives. A former Appletonian, she is active in First English Lutheran church here, serving as a choir mother, Sunday school teacher, and member of the women's church organization. Mrs. Whitman has lived in Kaukauna for the last 23 years.

Winnebago Supervisors Pass
Measure After Debate, 34 to 13

Oshkosh — Winnebago County board Monday afternoon approved a $5,000 expenditure to further research in lake fly control. The vote was 34 to 13.

The $5,000 is one-third of $15,000 to be used in a 3-year study carried on by Wisconsin State College at Oshkosh and the University of Wisconsin. An independent state research firm is giving $5,000 and another $5,000 is coming from industry affected by lake flies.

Dissenting votes were cast by Supervisors Herman Brandt, Omro; Max Carpenter, Rushford; Reinhold Grunski, Neenah; Gordon M. Hanson, Winchester; George Hunter, Utica; Henry A. Janowski, Menasha; William Kelsh, Oshkosh; Frank H. Metzger, Clayton; Hugh R. Moore, Neenah; Emil Pauer, Menasha; Ray Prellwitz, Neenah; Charles Rodat, Oshkosh; and Harold Raddatz, Black Wolf.

Explains Work
President of the Winnebago Lake Fly Research, Inc., Dr. Ernest Strakosch, explained work of his group as a collecting agency for funds and work on the project.

The university is studying control measures, five chemicals at present, for lake flies. Wisconsin State college biologists are studying breeding of the flies, habits of the flies, life span and fish that eat the larvae.

Sheephead and sturgeon have been found to eat most of the fly larvae, which must have a muddy bottom and algae to develop, he said.

Ones Fish Missed
"Those flies you see flying around are the ones the fish missed," the doctor said.

"We seek control, not eradication of the flies," the doctor told the board. "We are at that point now." When the project was first set up, researchers asked five or six years. In order to give the people investing money something for it, we compromised and said we would get results in three years, he added.

"Those three years are up and we need the additional three to perfect our research," the doctor explained. Chemicals under study by the university can wipe out the larvae and not injure fish, the doctor added.

Tourist Mecca
"We could have a Mecca for tourists here. But get a man interested and he'll tell you he'll open a tourist court here when the flies are gone."

"We went into this with our eyes open," Carl E. Steiger, president of the University of Wisconsin board of regents, said. "Those contributing to this research are part of a community project," he added.

The doctor told the board paper industries spent thousands of dollars yearly attempting to get rid of lake flies. The bugs get into bread wrappings and other paper products going on the market, he explained.

Measure Passed
If this measure is passed it would cost 5 cents a county resident to make up the $5,000. E. G. Steinhilber, Oshkosh, told the board.

Accompanying Dr. Strakosch before the board were Lyall Stilt, president of the Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce; David Ryan, past chamber president and head of the Lake Fly Research committee; and John Konrad, executive secretary of the Neenah and Menasha Chamber of Commerce.

Twin City Deaths
George O. Benedict
Winnebago — George O. Benedict, 62, Winnebago, died of a heart attack Saturday at Avondale, Ariz., where he was spending the winter months. He was born in Butte des Morts June 30, 1897, and had been employed at the Waite Carpet company at Oshkosh until retiring 11 years ago because of his health.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Mueller Funeral home with the Rev. Kenneth Craig, pastor of the Baptist church, in charge. Burial will be in Lakeview Memorial park at Oshkosh.

Survivors are the widow; two sons, George, Jr., Good year, Ariz., and Arthur, Avondale, Ariz.; two daughters, Mrs. Roy Dean, Buckeye, Ariz., and Miss Victorian Benedict, at home; four sisters, Mrs. Norman Perry, Butte des Morts, Mrs. Lavina Schneider, Oshkosh, Mrs. Vivian Starke, Milwaukee, and Mrs. Mary Andrews, Two Rivers; and three brothers, Cyrus and Raymond of Butte des Morts and Warren of Oshkosh.

Name Omitted
Neenah — A brother, William Weiner of Oshkosh, was omitted in the list of survivors of Mrs. John Oskar, Sr., 67, of 141 Jackson street who died Monday morning.

Two Admit Breakin At Architect Firm
Neenah — A 16-year-old Neenah boy and 15-year-old Neenah girl, apprehended in a stolen car in Washington county last week have admitted two breakins in the city, Police Chief Irving Stilt said today.

The two young people Monday admitted breaking into the office of the architectural firm of Frank C. Shattuck, M. F. Siewert and Associates and the Roosevelt school recently. About $30 was taken from the architectural firm and several doors at the school were damaged.

Potato Show
Neenah — John Konrad, executive secretary of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce, will attend the Wisconsin Potato show at Antigo Wednesday and Thursday. He was one of the founders of the annual show in 1953 when he was secretary of the Antigo Chamber of Commerce.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS
YARD BUILDING FOR SPRING ROAD SCHOOL
TOWN OF MENASHA DIST. NO. 1
MENASHA, WISCONSIN

Sealed proposals will be received by the school board at the Spring Road School office until 8 o'clock Nov. 16, for the construction of a warming room and storage building. Bids will be publicly opened and read aloud. The work consists of masonry walls, concrete floor, wood roof, and is 26' x 30' in size. Plans and specifications may be obtained at the school office upon deposit of $5.00. Bidders are to furnish bid bond or certified check in the amount of 5% of the total bid. The accepted contractor will be required to furnish a performance bond in the amount of 100% of the total bid. The owner reserves the right to reject any bid and accept that bid which it considers to be in its best interest.

State Urges Smaller Pupil, Teacher Ratio

Neenah Advised
To Offer More
Physical Education

Neenah — Reduction of the number of pupils per teacher and improvement of the physical education program by increasing the time allotment in junior and senior high grades was suggested to the Neenah public schools by the state department of public instruction.

The latter, read to the board of education Monday, classified Neenah as an integrated school district and indicated three places for improvement.

It urged attention be given to improvement of the pupil-teacher ratio by reducing the number of large classes in both elementary and high school.

Another was increasing the time allotment for physical education in grades seven through 12. The letter said it was understood this would be corrected when the new junior high school building is completed.

Library Service
The third was that the library service should be improved by providing additional periodicals and library books at the schools. However, Supt. of Schools H. B. Mennes told the board, the Neenah schools have a rather unique arrangement in that the public library provides the schools with many of the needed books.

This was a duplication of many books being owned by both the school system and the library and this arrangement has worked out well, he explained.

As to the physical education program, state law requires 150 minutes a week of physical education or health education, the equivalent of three classes a week. This is offered to freshmen and sophomores but not to the juniors or seniors.

Spelling Survey
Dr. Donald Scott, curriculum coordinator, outlined the testing program being conducted in the third through 12th grades as to spelling and the study being made by a faculty committee surveying the spelling program with possible ways to improve it.

Earl Brien, supervisor of school properties, reported two sections of temporary, movable partitions and shelving had been installed on the second floor corridor of the Kimberly Junior High school which was formerly the area of the old stairway, one on the north end and one on the south end.

The north end area is a work area for typing and duplicating of materials for teachers. The speech correctionist and dental hygienist use the south end area. While not ideal, he said, it does provide space for which there is a great need in that school.

Valuation Climbs

Town to Pay Higher Share of School Bill

Menasha — The town of Menasha next year will bear a slightly larger share of Menasha school district taxes because of increased equalized valuation in the Maplewood district north of the city.

The 1960 school budget calls for a total tax levy of $730,609, of which the city will pay $569,875 and the town, $160,734.

Valuation in the Maplewood district now has been computed at $22,009,455, a rise of $1,607,405 from the 1958 figure of $20,402,050. The figures have been certified to the city by Mrs. Maxine Ott, county superintendent of schools.

Menasha city valuation in the last year has climbed $2,699,070, from $75,389,930 to $78,089,000. The figures were set by the state department of taxation and the Winnebago county board of equalization.

The school district budget for next year, subject to final approval by the city council, is estimated at $812,963, a 13 per cent increase over 1959's figure of $792,395.

Operations will cost an estimated $811,716 and payments on two bond issues, $101,250. The bond payments will be the first on the new Sixth street school and the second on Clovis-Grove school.

Career Officer

Neenah Man Returns From Saigon, Served in Military Aid Program

Neenah — After a year in Saigon, South Viet Nam, Maj. Dale B. Dodge last week rejoined his family at 563 Oak street for long enough to sell their home and move family and furnishings.

Maj. Dodge, a career air force officer, was assigned to a United States mission in Saigon advising Vietnamese in maintenance of military aid program equipment and material.

His next duty station will be Vandenberg Air Force base, Santa Barbara, Calif., where he reports early next month. Dodge will be assigned to the First Missile division as a maintenance engineer.

Dodge is a Neenah native and was co-captain of the Neenah High school football team in 1937-38, his senior year.

Most striking to him was the Saigon's primitiveness. The United States mission is helping the natives build roads to combat the basic problem — lack of transportation. Otherwise, cargo moves by air, rail, commercial elephant or small carts. The country's monsoon season hampers movement.

Also lacking is communication. Since there are almost no land telephone lines, messages must be sent by radio.

In its fight against the communists, the Vietnamese government has needed tight controls, including censorship of news. Still, the communists learn much of the government's business through informers.

The state police have been trained by a mission sent there by Michigan State university.

Two Die in Terrorism
Dodge was at Saigon last July 8 when terrorists bombed and machine-gunned a theater that American service personnel were using as a mess hall. Two Americans died from the bombing and one was wounded.

Maj. Dodge attended Oshkosh State college a year after he graduated from Neenah, then enlisted in the army air force in 1939. He served until 1946 as an aircraft maintenance officer, and was released. In 1950, he was recalled for Korean war service. He served in Japan and Korea, returning to the United States in 1953.

They were Dean Koss, Richard Berry and Gary Koelbl. All pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsing.

Arraignment of Franklin Krause, proprietor of Harrison Bar, charged with selling intoxicating liquor to minors, was postponed until 10 a.m. Wednesday to allow Krause to obtain counsel.

Krause told the judge that he was not in the bar when the four youths, later involved in the crash Saturday night were present. Schettl died Sunday morning about four hours after the accident.

Menasha — Trinity Lutheran church members Monday night elected officers at the quarterly congregation meeting and adopted a budget for next year.

They also adopted a scholarship-assistance program to aid young people of the congregation preparing for the preaching or teaching ministry. It also was agreed to participate in a synod-wide evangelism program during lent next year.

A sound filmstrip of the Missouri Synod's recent convention in San Francisco was shown.

1-Year Terms
Elected for 1-year terms were Ray Martens as chairman, Marvin Melick as vice-chairman, Dr. B. T. Hansman as secretary, Edward Krabbe as treasurer, and Harold Jesse as financial secretary, a reelection.

Elected to 3-year terms on the boards were Amos D. Page and Edwin Timm on the board of elders, Norbert Pomeroy and Walter Yurk on the board of education and Robert Wagner and Elmer Westfahl as trustees.

Reports were given by the pastor, the Rev. Walter Lichtsinn; the school principal, Howard Wendland; and the various boards.

New Policy Set On Vacations, Sick Leave

Oshkosh Courthouse
Full-Time Employees
Covered by Plan

Oshkosh — A resolution was passed by the Winnebago county board Monday setting up a standard procedure for vacation and sick leave for courthouse employees.

The measure covers only full-time employees. No policy existed before.

Employees with one year's work will get a 2-week vacation. Employees with 10-year's service will get 3-week vacations.

Sick leave provisions allow seven days yearly, with accumulation up to 60 days. Sick leave may not be taken as vacation, Supt. Orrin King, roads to combat the basic problem — lack of transportation. Otherwise, cargo moves by air, rail, commercial elephant or small carts. The country's monsoon season hampers movement.

Also lacking is communication. Since there are almost no land telephone lines, messages must be sent by radio.

Pass Measure To Microfilm Court Records

Documents Up to 1929 to be Filmed; State $1,425 Cost

Oshkosh — Members of the Winnebago county board approved a purchase of microfilm equipment to film county court documents. Cost will be nearly $11,500. All county court records up to 1929 will be filmed by a machine costing the county $1,425. In addition a viewer costing $475 is proposed. A firm with offices in Green Bay made a survey of needs in the county court and sent a representative to explain the equipment and requirements to the board. Ninety per cent of the documents in the court would have to be filmed on both sides, the representative said in answer to a question by Supv. Norbert Redlin, Neenah. Redlin wanted information as to whether costs of filming would be cheaper if only one side of documents were filmed. Redlin was also told a microfilm camera, such as the county intends to purchase, is changeable for 35 and 16 millimeter lenses. The cost of the equipment is low considering the overall figure entered in the budget, William Kelsh, Oshkosh, said. Some 1,343,000 documents in county court have to be filmed at a cost of $6,000. Filming another 1,057,000 in circuit court would cost $5,000 plus $217 for the welfare department and $240 for the register of deeds. Also in the figure is $3,000 for trained operators to do the back work.

Cub Pack Inducts 16 New Members

Permits for 3 Apartment Homes Given

Neenah — Admiral Builders, Inc., have been issued permits for three apartment buildings with an estimated total cost of $84,000, according to Carlton F. Williams, building inspector. One of the structures will be an 8-apartment building at 718 E. Cecil street and will cost $35,000. The building will be 43 by 55 feet, two-story of brick veneer. A 4-apartment building will be constructed at 704 E. Cecil street at an estimated cost of $28,000. This building will be 32 by 70 feet. The other 4 - apartment structure will cost an estimated $23,000 and will be at 851 Congress street. It will be 31 by 56 feet. Lauer Brothers received a permit for a $25,000 home on Edgewood drive. With the latest permits the new home total in the city has climbed to 159.

Board Votes County Park Bath House

Coin-Operated Lockers Planned For New Building

Oshkosh — A question of need for a bath house at Winnebago county park was brought to the county board here. Members of the park committee have cost of a proposed bath house figured into 1960 budget estimates for park expenses which total $8,125. This is an increase of $2,215 over 1959. Supervisor Franklin Neuschaefer, Fremont, said the proposed building would have no roof but would have coin-operated lockers for clothes. Neenah and Oshkosh residents paid costs of swimming pools and facilities, now we saddle them with another such project, Clarence Loehning, Neenah, said in objecting to the project. "People came before in their bathing suits in cars, let them continue to do the same," he said. Virginia Nolan, Oshkosh, said if a bath house were built she would favor supervision there to keep an eye on boys and girls changing clothes. "It was suggested Winnebago provide that service since it has instructors and life guards at the waterfront. But, if the community agreed one year to do it and pulled out the next, the board would be left with an additional problem, a supervisor said. "Gentlemen, you have here a park in which you know an expenditure of $25,000 is nothing for improvements when it cost us $7,500 to buy," Vice Chairman, John T. Heigl warned the board. The resolution passed.

Select Name for 5th, 6th Grade Club - At Clayton School

Neenah — Fifth and sixth graders of the Clayton school have selected the Clayton Junior Badgers as the name for their new club. At a recent meeting reports were completed on the Badger history magazine. Participating in a skit were Richard Bondow, James Wagner, Priscilla Schnetzer and Peggy Sager.

Costumed Guests Attend KCA Party

Unit Names Yule Basket Chairman

Neenah—Mrs. George Banta III was named chairman of the Christmas giving committee at the Monday meeting of Neenah-Menasha Emergency Society, Inc., at Mrs. H. C. Sperka's home. Mrs. Fred Deutsch will be her assistant.

Baskets will be packed by volunteer workers at the home of Mrs. Robert Aik on Dec. 23.

Mrs. George Pratt, Jr., in her dental driving report, said four clinics were held with 14 children attending. Drivers for the month were Mrs. Richard Stafford, Mrs. Henry Tolle, Mrs. H. C. Sperka and Mrs. Gordon Sawyer.

The total number of hours the members of the society have worked in the past two years amounts to 5,770.

In her report, Mrs. Banta said the average number of hours per member amounted to 165.

The Community council report was given by Mrs. Luke Rindal. Mrs. Edward Hart and Mrs. Richard Johnson will attend the next Community council meeting.

Mrs. John Grimes will be hostess at the meeting Dec. 6.

5 Area Students Enroll at Beloit

Menasha—Among the 1,011 students enrolled at Beloit college this fall are Marilyn J. Bertram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bertram, 365 Elm street; Theodore A. Haber, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Haber, 190 Prospect street; Bruce and Gary Gallagher, sons of Mrs. Dorothy Gallagher, 739 Carver lane; and Louise A. Heidtke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Heidtke, 709 Stevens street, Neenah.

VNA Loan Closet Serves Community

Neenah—Do you need crutches, a hospital bed or a cane? The Visiting Nurse Association's loan closet is equipped with these and almost any conceivable article for use in the sickroom or nursery.

Infra red lamps, walkers, bed blocks and baby scales can be had on a long or short term loan at a very nominal cost. For instance, the charge for a wheel chair is 50 cents for the first week, 10 cents for each additional week and it may be kept as long as it is needed—for weeks, months or even years. The fees are used to keep equipment in repair, but there is no charge for those who cannot afford to pay.

All equipment, large or small, from ice bags and rubber sheets to hospital beds and wheel chairs, is numbered and listed in a rolling file. The only requirement is that it must be returned when the patient has finished using it. Any item may be obtained by persons needing it by calling at the VNA home.

The staff nurses often carry much more with them than the black bags filled with medicines and nursing equipment. When they leave for the day they may have in the trunk of their cars a couple of back rests, a sun lamp or a pair of crutches.

The VNA auxiliary supplies the nurses aprons, sterile surgical dressings, cord dressings and other equipment carried in the nurses' bags.

Turnover of supplies often exceeds 12 a day.

The loan closet is kept equipped by civic organizations and contributions are often made by grateful convalescents who no longer need to depend on medical supplies.

The VNA is one of the Red Feather agencies.

Census Takers Prepare for Work Monday

Training Program Set for Kaukauna City Hall Wednesday

Chilton — Sixteen census takers for Calumet and a portion of Outagamie county have been appointed for the 1959 census of agriculture and will begin a training course Wednesday, John Suttner, crew leader, announced. Nine are from Calumet county and seven are from Outagamie. Each is assigned a township.

The training in preparation for the field canvass which begins Monday, will be held in Kaukauna city hall. Suttner will conduct the course which covers the use of the questionnaire, census definition, interviewing and map reading.

Census Takers

Those scheduled to take the training and the townships they will cover are:

Outagamie county: Robert Techlin, Center; Mrs. Mildred Smith, Freedom; Mrs. Leona Moskowsky, Appleton area; Mrs. Flora Martin, Gran Chute; Owen Hietpas, Vandenbrook; Ray Mieke, Buchanan, and Mrs. Mary Kempen, Kaukauna. The census should be completed within two weeks, Suttner said.

7 Menasha High Seniors Close Prep Careers

Menasha — Seven seniors will conclude their prep football careers for Menasha High school in Wednesday's Mid-Eastern conference finale at New London.

The senior group includes Bob Cook, Paul Beachkofski, Keith Bednarowski, linemen, and Jim Stenson, Ed Sheets, John Block and Dan Rau, backs.

Beachkofski plays guard

both ways, Cook is an offensive guard and Bednarowski has been used at defensive tackle but because of injuries to other boys will play center on offense Wednesday.

Stenson, halfback last year, was shifted to quarterback this fall; Sheets plays offensive halfback and is a line-backer and Rau is used mainly at a defensive end spot. He is the No. 2 fullback. Block is out for the first time since his freshman year and has played at quarterback.

Appeals Conviction On Traffic Charges

Oshkosh — Richard A. Glaser, 19, Appleton, who was found guilty of reckless driving and failure to obey a traffic officer's signal last week, Monday afternoon appealed the verdict to circuit court. He pleaded innocent Oct. 17 after being arrested on Highway 114 in the town of Menasha and was found guilty and fined $45 and costs by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger Oct. 27. At that time, the judge granted a 5-day stay of execution to allow Glaser to appeal.

Vanderheiden To Command Battle Group

New Army Reserve Unit Formed at Menasha Armory

Menasha — Col. Paul H. Vanderheiden, 104 Center street, Neenah, has assumed command of the 5203rd battle group, an Army reserve training unit being organized at the Menasha army reserve armory.

The new unit will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays. Many openings exist in the new unit in grades below lieutenant colonel, according to Capt. Thomas Keough, regular army adviser.

Training will be mainly in staff functions of the pentomic division's battle group, the army unit designed to replace the regiment in the old triangular division. A division now consists of five battle groups, each able to support itself in operations with its own assigned personnel and service functions.

The 5203rd battle group is a non-paid drill unit. However officers and enlisted men may accrue 50 points toward retirement each year. Attendance at summer camp is not required, since the unit is not organized on a pay basis. Staff officer assignments will be made by Col. Vanderheiden. The only assignment made is Lt. Col. Talbot Peterson, Appleton, as battle group executive officer.

All training directives and standards put out by the XIV corps will be enforced in the 5203rd battle group. When the staff is formed and familiarized with duties, subordinate units probably will be formed, says Capt. Keough.

The battle group headquarters will include medical corps supply and maintenance, engineers, communications, reconnaissance, assault gun, personnel and counterfire functions.

Drunken Driving Charge Dismissed

Oshkosh — A charge of drunken driving against Jack W. Sturges, 21, route 1, Neenah, was dismissed for lack of evidence by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger Monday on recommendation of Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber. Sturges was arrested Oct. 11 on Highway 114 and Pendleton road in the town of Neenah. He pleaded innocent at his arraignment.

Berko Radiant Electric Heat Can Supplement Present System

Menasha — Berko Electric Manufacturing company, pioneer in glass electric radiant heating, has developed a truly efficient heating system that will give your house the luxuriant warmth of June sunshine throughout the year. This is a completely different kind of heating system that will give you more healthful and dependable heat than you now have — and at a cost that makes it really practical.

Sunshine streaming through a plate glass window soaks warmth into every solid object it touches — walls, floors, furniture, you. And every object in the sunshine becomes a secondary source of reflected heat, spreading the warmth.

Yet there are no "hot spots". The window is comfortable to the touch, not burning hot like a radiator, a fire or an electric coil. Because there are no "hot spots", the air is not appreciably heated. There are no rushes of dried, parched air, followed by drafts of cold air. The air is quiet and fresh, good to breathe and kind to the skin. Yet you are comfortably warm without drafts or cold floors.

Heated Glass Is Answer

If your house were one huge plate glass window, and the sun never stopped shining, you would have the perfect heating system. And now you can have this kind of heat. It is Berko Glass Electric Radiant Heat.

Electrically-heated Pyrex glass panels are controlled by individual room thermostats to give you invisible sunshine-through-glass heat with precise control. You get the exact amount of heat you want, wherever and whenever you want it — a wealth of warmth for the coldest winter days, or hurry-up heat.

Economical, No Waste

Berko heating is economical because it's efficient. The individual room thermostats give you plenty of heat where and when you want it, conserve it where you don't. If no one's going to use the guest room, shut off the thermostat. Why pay for heat that won't be used? Similarly, the heating of any other room or area is as simple as the flick of the thermostat. . . and as economical, too! And because the solid objects are heated instead of the air, there is no wasteful heat flow from room to room or out of the house. That's where the waste is in other heating systems — they heat the air, and the air escapes. But with Berko radiant glass, the heat goes where it's needed — not roaring up the chimney.

Berko Glass Electric Radiant Heat is so adaptable. Homeowners who find it unfeasible to change over their heating systems are delighted to learn how simple it is to add the comfort of radiant heat right where it's needed. Cold attics, laundry rooms, work shops, . . . even cold spots in the main living areas can be quickly eliminated with the simple, inexpensive installation of just the Berko panel needed.

FHA terms, including no money down, are available now at H. Schuelke and company, route 2, Menasha. Mr. Schuelke will be glad to answer any questions Fox Cities might have concerning this marvelous new heating system. Phone number to call is Regent 3-8022.

Brown, Huhn, Resch Honored by Zephyrs

Neenah Halfback Most Valuable Player; Guard, End Selected Honorary Co-Captains

Menasha — Two linemen and a back have been accorded honors for the 1959 season by their St. Mary's High school football teammates.

Halfback Norm Brown was chosen the most valuable player and guard Dave Huhn and end Dave Resch were selected as honorary co-captains at a squad meeting Monday afternoon.

Brown, as a freshman, saw enough action to earn a letter and he was a starting back the last three seasons. This fall he did the kick off and punting work as well as playing halfback on defense.

The Neenah youth played only a few minutes in last Friday's finale against Premontré. He suffered a shoulder injury the first time he carried the ball.

Huhn, an Appleton resident, was a letterman as a sophomore and held down a regular offensive guard post in his junior year. He again was a starter on offense this fall and also saw frequent defensive duty.

Resch, who transferred from Chilchil in his sophomore year, played end on both offense and defense. He scored St. Mary's lone touchdown in Friday's 34-7 loss to Premontré.

The list of lettermen will be announced by Coach Vince Ste. Marie at a later date.

Huhn Resch

Resch, who transferred from Chilchil in his sophomore year, played end on both offense and defense. He scored St. Mary's lone touchdown in Friday's 34-7 loss to Premontré.

The list of lettermen will be announced by Coach Vince Ste. Marie at a later date.

Kruse Jars 582 Threesomes in Neenah Wheel

June Wolff Rolls Leading 549 Total in Tri-City League

Neenah — Erv Kruse of the Crystal Bar team jarred a 582 series and Norm Lamb of Club 400 notched a 228 game in the First Niter Bowling league Monday night at Lake road Lanes.

Denny Laux rolled a 580 trio, Bob Murray had 565 and John Worm 556.

Owl Tavern North (18-6) is the possessor of first place by two games.

June Wolff's 549 trio took honors in the Tri-City Women's Major Bowling league Monday night at Lakeroad Lanes.

Other honor scores included Nina Zelinski 545, Corace Hansel 538, Norma Redlin 531, Berdie Bauhs 519, and Vic Hilger 514.

Gord's recorded a scratch 837 game and Joyce Movers had a 2,346 series for the peak team efforts. Joyce's (201-34) is in first place by 1½ games.

Bob Murray rolled a 561 trio and Wayne Braun tallied 559 in the latest session of the Bergstrom Men's league at Lakeroad. Offset and Bankweavers are tied for first place with 16-5 records.

Quayle Nets 264 Solo in K of C Wheel

Neenah — Elmer Quayle socked a 264 game and 614 series in the Knights of Columbus Bowling circuit Monday night at Muench's alleys.

Harold Haberman had a 589 trio.

Lyal Williams tumbled a 234 game and Bob Mueller had a 590 series in the Sleepy Hollow league Monday night at Muench's.

John Danielson rolled 558 and Irv Hall had 553. Latham Body Works (12-6) is in first place by one game.

No honor counts came out of the Monday afternoon Business and Professional Women's league which has Billers in first place by one game with a 15-9 record.

The Fullback Corps on the Menasha High school football squad includes Ken Syring, left, and Dan Rau, right, in addition to starter Bill Ritchie. Syring is a junior and Rau, a senior, who plays end on defense. Menasha closes its season Wednesday at New London.

Hanson Authors 629 For Menasha Honors

Clubs 265 Game; Ulman Leads Way in Couples Loop

Menasha — Bob Hanson spilled a 265 game and 629 series to make a sweep of honors in the St. John Holy Name Bowling league Monday night at Mid-Town alleys.

Other honor scores included Ben Coopman 573, John Reuter 569, Jim Voissem 557 and Ed Zelinski 552.

Hour on Wheels holds the first place spot with a 16-8 record and a 2-game advantage.

Cliff Ulman rolled a 629 series in the Advanced Auto Mixed Couples league Saturday night at Mid-Town.

Ulman included games of 225 and 234 in his leading threesome but yielding singleton honors to Robert Voissem, who had 243.

Marvin Dallman bowled 629 and Harold Becker 582 for other men's honor counts while Rita Lampman paced the women keglers with a 210 loner.

The 10-team circuit is led by Pontiacs with an 11-4 record and a 1-game margin.

Lakeview Converters, last year's seventh team, may still join the circuit.

League play will begin at the Roosevelt gym on Nov. 18 and rosters are due by next Monday.

Two Deadlock For Mid-East Scoring Lead

Wilson, Hearden Tally 42 Points; Three Tie for 3rd

Menasha — The weekend's high scoring (124 points by seven teams) results in two players being tied for first place going into the Mid-Eastern conference's final set of games.

Co-leaders are Dick Wilson of Neenah and Don Hearden, Kimberly quarterback, each with 42 points.

Wilson scored three touchdowns in the win over Menasha and Hearden made a pair of 6-pointers and kicked a field goal against Two Rivers.

The Papermaker back had 27 and Wilson 18 points going into the weekend tests.

The runnerup spot is shared by three players, Dick Bennett and Leon Westphal of Clintonville and Bob Wurdinger of Kaukauna, last week's leader, all with 36 markers.

Wurdinger didn't score against Clintonville while Bennett made a TD against the Ghosts and Westphal scored once and added a brace of extra points.

Shawano's Guy Booth, who scored twice, and Bruce Ludke of Kaukauna, with one weekend TD, are knotted for the next two positions with 30 apiece while Bill Berhard of Menasha is next in line with 28.

Conference clubs scored 19 touchdowns in their four games and converted after only five of them. However, two field goals were booted, the first of the season.

The scoring:

Team	TD	PAT	TP
Wilson, Neenah	6	3	42*
Hearden, Clint.	7	0	42
Bennett, Clint.	6	0	36
Wurdinger, Kaukauna	6	0	36

Crippled Jay Club Ends '59 Campaign Against Bulldogs

Menasha Loses 3 Starters For Windup; Seek 2nd Win

Menasha — A crippled Menasha High school football team will write finis to its 1959 football schedule with a 4-5 p.m. Mid-Eastern conference tangle Wednesday at New London.

The Bluejays will be without the services of three regulars, all of whom received injuries in the Neenah game. Out are end Dave Ristau, who bumped his shoulder and center Tom Leopold and tackle Steve Bachhuber, who suffered slight concussions. None of the ailments was serious and all three were in school Monday.

Tom Heitl, a junior, is expected to play Ristau's end spot with sophomore Fritz Blohm or junior Terry Lindon opening at tackle.

Other Changes

Defensive tackle Keith Bednarowski is expected to play center on offense except on kicks when sophomore Jack Robertson takes over. That was the arrangement after

New London tries to end the season as it did two seasons ago when it upset the Bluejays 19-6 there, halting a 33-game losing chain.

New London and Menasha have hooked up in one of the longest unbroken series in the area. They've been playing each other annually since 1923 four years before conference play began. The Neenah-Menasha series has been on a consecutive basis since 1926.

Wednesday's meeting will be the 32nd in league play and the 37th straight overall. The Jays have a 23-8 league advantage.

Menasha's conference champs won last year's meeting 25-0 but not without a struggle. The hosts only had a 6-0 lead at halftime and 12-0 after three periods. Dick Taves, Tom Stepanik, Dave Robinson and Stumpf made the Menasha scores.

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED: The noun SCARE is properly used in the sense of baseless general apprehension of war, or of a commercial panic. Thus: "A war scare spread over the nation," and, "The market was upset by the scare in big business." Good usage does not sanction the colloquialism, "The news gave me a scare."

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED: Dolorous. The preferred pronunciation has first syllable rhyming with "doll," and not with "dole."

OFTEN MISPELLED: Rack (horse's gait; a framework; to afflict). Wrack (wreckage).

SYNONYMS: Obstinate, dogged, stubborn, pertinacious, mulish.

WORD STUDY: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: pastiche; a literary or artistic composition imitating, often caricaturing, previous writings or paintings. (Pronounce pastech, accent second syllable). "This pastiche is the product of an uncreative writer."

U. S. Tries to Control Plane Flights to Cuba

Washington--(AP)--The United States is trying to stop all unauthorized flights from Florida to Cuba by stationing immigration officers with planes at the state's 200 airports.

This new program, announced by the justice department Sunday, came after charges by Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba that private planes, based in Florida, had flown over Havana, dropping leaflets and bombs.

The charges prompted President Eisenhower to ask Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers to enforce the laws governing persons leaving the United States for Cuba.

After consultations with the state department and the federal aviation agency, the justice department decided to send a special force of more than 100 men to reinforce immigration officers in Florida.

Water Wheel Has 5 Paddles Cut From Fruit Basket Wood

BY CAPPY DICK

Next time you go some place where there is a creek, take a water wheel with you. You can have a lot of fun with it. You may also operate the wheel beneath the faucet of the kitchen sink. Wherever water flows, there a water wheel may be used.

The wheel can be made in a very short time from the thin wood of a fruit or berry basket. Using an old pair of scissors cut five pieces that are all the same size. Cut them so the crease in the basket is at the middle of each piece as shown by the dotted lines in Figure 1 which also shows what one of the pieces will look like when it has been out.

You must now glue the five pieces together back-to-back to form a wheel of five paddles. Figure 2 shows what the pieces will look like when assembled. Do not glue the two blades of one piece together. Instead, glue the back of one blade to the back of another blade of another piece. When you have put all five pieces together you will have a five-paddle wheel, each paddle of double thickness.

Get five pieces of wire about six inches long. Twist them together at one end. Lay one wire in the space between each pair of paddles, then twist the wires together at the other end. The wheel now has an axle as in Figure 3.

Rest the twisted wires on two forked sticks that will support the water wheel at the height which permits the tip of the bottom paddle to be within flowing water. As the water moves it will turn the wheel on its axle.

County Officials and Red Cross workers met Monday with Miss Grace Fossati, area Red Cross disaster representative, to discuss plans for the Outagamie county disaster preparedness program. The meetings were the first in a disaster institute that will continue all week. Discussing a disaster manual are, left to right, Joseph Bayorgeon, mayor of Kaukauna; Mayor Clarence Mitchell, Appleton; Miss Fossati; George Barry, Appleton, chairman of a disaster preparedness committee; and Robert Crabb, chairman of the Outagamie county disaster preparedness program.

Red Cross Part in Disasters Outlined

Institute on Preparedness to Last All Week

Red Cross authority and duties in case of a disaster were discussed Monday night at city hall at the first meeting of the Outagamie county Red Cross Disaster Preparedness Institute.

Miss Grace Fossati, St. Louis, disaster representative for Wisconsin and Michigan, told a group of 69 law enforcement officers, fire department representatives and private citizens the Red Cross is responsible for food, shelter, clothing and rehabilitation under its charter from congress.

Robert Crabb, Outagamie county disaster preparedness chairman, said the two basic needs of the disaster program are qualified personnel and training. He said Outagamie county has the personnel, and the week-long disaster institute will enable the workers to learn from the practical experience of Miss Fossati.

Disaster Organization

Outagamie county Red Cross workers have been organized into committees that are responsible for food, shelter, clothing, transportation, communications, medical service, nursing service, public information, supplies, family

Step Forward Made Against Dystrophy

New Castle, England—A team of British doctors believe three mice from the United States may provide the answer to a disease which turns people into helpless cripples.

The disease, muscular dystrophy, wastes away the muscles and often results in death. It usually begins in childhood and frequently runs in families.

The American mice, themselves cripples, have been studied for a year by researchers at Newcastle's Royal Victoria infirmary. After experiments with the animals, the British team succeeded in growing muscles for three weeks in a chemical liquid. Now they are able to study the whole life history of a dystrophic muscle.

Sunday night a hospital spokesman claimed a "noteworthy step forward in the fight against muscular dystrophy."

"The stage we have reached in our research is quite in advance of anything done anywhere else in the world," he said.

The researchers have used muscles taken from the mice and also from volunteer patients for further experiments. The hospital spokesman cautioned dystrophy patients against any false optimism, however.

"We are just in the experimental stage," he stressed. "It will take some time before we come within sight of being able to restore normal growth of muscle."

"But we are very encouraged by our achievements,"

Nelson Asks Action On Stopgap Taxes

Wants Legislature to Delay Long-Range Plan to 1961

Madison — Gov. Gaylord today set a spring target date for completing its work and declined to make short-term tax suggestions to the fall session tax revisions for the 1961 legislative session.

The governor, who is opposed to a second legislative recess to await recommendations of a citizens committee on tax revision, outlined his position in a 24-page letter that reached the lawmakers just before they were to reconvene at noon.

"There have been reports that some members of the legislature intend to play politics with tax revision," he said. "I hope this report is not true."

The citizens committee Friday set a spring target date for completing its work and declined to make short-term tax suggestions to the fall session tax revisions for the 1961 legislative session.

A tax increase of some kind is a certainty because a $22,300,000 deficit in the 1960-61 budget must be made up. Nelson plans to propose a plan for withholding income taxes for a second time, as one alternative, a rate boost in personal income taxes as a second.

"I do not intend to recommend any program of tax revision until I know what its effect will be," he wrote, "and I do not believe that you, as a responsible legislator, would wish to vote blindly for any such plan."

Any suggestion that the legislature recess until the tax committee's report becomes available "is not practical," he said.

No Hasty Action

"It seems to me that it would be foolhardy to leave the state of Wisconsin without a balanced budget until the last moment," he continued. "It seems unwise to plan hasty action, under the pressure of a deadline, on a problem that has faced the state for so many years and is so important."

"For these reasons," he concluded, "I hope sincerely that this legislature will not discard the orderly processes of government, that it will not spoil the chance of sound tax revision by hasty, unmotivated action."

"I enjoin you to face up to the financial problem now, enact a temporary tax program and permit the study of tax revision to proceed at its own pace."

The political dispute over taxes is expected to supply much of the grist slowing the legislative machine as it faces many of the same problems tackled earlier in a 194-day meeting.

Brownson Highway Head

Reelected to Fourth Term; Board Names 8 Others to Posts

Nine men were unanimously elected by the Outagamie county board to varying terms to institutional boards, organizations and offices this morning. All are presently serving in the jobs, all terms expire Dec. 31.

Brownson Named Highway Commissioner for his fourth 2-year term was Clarence Brownson.

Supervisors voted to have Becker and Okada and Company, Appleton, audit county accounts for the next year for $3,100, the same fee as this year.

Also elected were Dr. A. Lester Koch, Appleton, 3-year term to the Outagamie county hospital board of trustees; John S. Wynboon, Little Chute, 3-year term to the Riverview sanatorium board of trustees; Henry VanStraten, Hortonville, 3-year term to the Outagamie county safety council; and Elmer VanderVelden, Kimberly, and Elmer Root, town of Ellington, 3-year terms to the Outagamie county school committee.

Temperatures for October Lower Than 59-Year Average

Daily temperatures averaged cut below the 59-year October average, and precipitation, including melted, measurable snowfall on one day, totaled to more than twice the monthly normal.

Drab dreary weather conditions existed 24 days. High winds were measured on only two days.

Subnormal daily temperatures of 10 degrees or more were measured on seven days. Temperatures were below normal 24 days, to leave only seven days of near average temperatures. The monthly mean of 45.5 degrees was 4.3 degrees below the 59-year October average. This included both very light and moderate freezing on five days late in the month but still not enough to be 'classified' as a heavy killing freeze. Daytime highs never exceeded 64.

This was the third consecutive month of excess rain. The greatest portions fell on the 23rd and 24th of October. It was followed by unusual wet snowfall of almost an inch. Soggy fields were in a state of saturation for much of the month. The 4.37 of an inch total was exceeded in recent years with a 4.71 inch total in 1954. Record high for October is 6.34 inches in 1911.

Heating days below a 65 degree base totaled 563 in October, almost 25 per cent more than normal. The season total since Sept. 1 was 699 at the end of October. This was ahead of a normal 516.

Heat growth units above a 40 degree base amounted to 211 in October, compared to a 315 monthly normal. But, the season total of 4,718 since April 1 was ahead of the seasonal normal of 4,196.

Youth Fined for Shooting at Park Squirrels

A 19-year-old Appleton youth who spurned Wisconsin's fabled woodlands to go hunting in the wilds of Teulalah park today was fined $5 in municipal court by Judge Oscar J. Schmlege.

Craig L. Harp, 1034 E. Jardin street, was charged with shooting an air pistol at squirrels in the park. He was arrested Monday by Appleton police after neighbors complained.

Farmer Found Dead in Field

Waupaca — Karl J. Kneupel, 49, route 3, Waupaca, was found dead on a tractor by his brother, Herbert, about noon Monday. Karl, a bachelor, lived on Herbert's town of Lind farm.

County Coroner Dr. Sam Salan said Kneupel apparently died after a heart attack sometime Monday morning. He was born Dec. 30, 1909, in Oshkosh.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Holly Funeral home, with the Rev. P. R. Kuske, pastor of Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church, in charge. Burial will be in the Lind Center cemetery.

Friends may call after 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the funeral home, where a prayer service will be conducted at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

He is survived by two brothers, Herbert and Edward of Fond du Lac; and three sisters, Mrs. Marie Davidson, Appleton, Mrs. Robert Brockman, Milwaukee, and Mrs. Elwyn West, route 3, Waupaca.

Penney's to Offer Charge Accounts

The Appleton J. C. Penney company store will offer customer charge accounts beginning in June, 1960, F. T. Burtice, manager, has announced.

The charge plan is called the planned payment account, giving a customer a chance to pay his bill within 30 days of billing without an added service charge. If the customer prefers, he may make at least a minimum payment and carry the balance for a period of time with a monthly service charge.

Decline of about 1.66 per cent between mid-September and mid-October brought them to that point.

The agriculture department said the month brought lower prices for cattle, hogs, corn, grapefruit, calves, and eggs. Partially offsetting were price increases for milk, tomatoes and wheat.

Political Overtones

The report carried political overtones. It was issued at a time when political leaders are beginning to lay the groundwork for the 1960 presidential and congressional elections. Democrats have said they plan to make a bid for the farm vote on the basis of declining farm prices.

The department said farm prices as a whole averaged 79 per cent of parity in mid-October, the lowest since August, 1940. A month earlier they were at 80 per cent of parity, a year ago 85 and the record was 123 per cent set in October 1946.

Should farm prices follow their normal course, they will decline even more by the end of the year.

Prices paid by farmers declined also during the month, but only one-third of 1 per cent.

Lanterns Stolen

The Appleton street department reported to police today the theft of five lanterns from the S. Lawe street construction project. The lanterns were taken from the College avenue, N. Island and E. South River street intersections, the report said.

Prices paid by farmers declined also during the month, but only one-third of 1 per cent.

Lanterns Stolen

The Appleton street department reported to police today the theft of five lanterns from the S. Lawe street construction project. The lanterns were taken from the College avenue, N. Island and E. South River street intersections, the report said.

Average Now Lowest Since August, 1940

Washington — The buying power of farm product prices—taken as a whole—has dropped to the lowest level since August, 1940.

A decline of about 1.66 per cent between mid-September and mid-October brought them to that point.

The agriculture department said the month brought lower prices for cattle, hogs, corn, grapefruit, calves, and eggs. Partially offsetting were price increases for milk, tomatoes and wheat.

Political Overtones

The report carried political overtones. It was issued at a time when political leaders are beginning to lay the groundwork for the 1960 presidential and congressional elections. Democrats have said they plan to make a bid for the farm vote on the basis of declining farm prices.

The department said farm prices as a whole averaged 79 per cent of parity in mid-October, the lowest since August, 1940. A month earlier they were at 80 per cent of parity, a year ago 85 and the record was 123 per cent set in October 1946.

Should farm prices follow their normal course, they will decline even more by the end of the year.

'Sanitation Better' Committee Rules Out Spraying Elm Trees

The park board's proposed tree program will proceed next year without a mist blower for Dutch elm disease control if the city council's 1960 budget committee has its way. Committee members trimmed $5,000 earmarked to buy the DDT-blower from the park board's request for $26,815.17 to institute a tree program. They acted upon advice of one committeeman who said he works with Kimberly-Clark foresters and is not sold on the spraying method of Dutch elm control.

Remove Dead Wood

You spray trees after they are infected to keep disease from spreading, but it takes two years for larvae to hatch, he explained.

What is needed, he said, is a sanitation program to remove all dead wood in which the elm beetle lives.

You must continue the spraying program each year once the disease is reported in the area, he said.

Several committeemen said they had attended a talk by a Dutch elm expert during the recent League of Municipalities convention at Green Bay and also are not sold on spraying.

Need Dr. Kagen's Views

One committeeman pointed out the city cannot be sure Dr. Marvin S. Kagen, health commissioner, will permit spraying.

(Dr. Kagen some time ago said there could be danger of too much DDT — from both mosquito and tree control programs — and both programs would have to be looked into.)

Mayor Mitchell said there evidently is another year's time available to the city in which answers to the questions can be sought.

The final $21,815.17 budget approved by the committee would provide $13,704.82 to hire a 4-man crew and $8,800 to buy a stake body truck with hoist.

Trane Firm Net Down $700,000

The Trane company, La Crosse, manufacturing engineers of air conditioning, heating, ventilating and heat transfer equipment, today reported increased sales and profits for third quarter 1959 compared to a like period in 1958. However, consolidated 9-month totals for 1959 show increased sales with profits down $700,000.

For three months ended Sept. 30, sales were $24,021,388 with net profit $1,678,803. This compares with 1958 sales of $20,776,684 and $1,341,950 net income for the same period.

The first nine months of 1959 show sales of $62,043,073 with $3,370,415 profits. The 1958 9-month totals for sales were $60,939,838 with profits of $4,070,820.

Net earnings per share for the third quarter this year are 79 cents and $1.58 for the first nine months, compared to net earnings per share of 63 cents for the third quarter of 1958 and $1.91 for the first nine months.

Citizens Ask Port Survey, Board Argues; No Action

Committee Members Object; Debate Indicates They Want More Talks

Asked for $7,000 for an airport survey by an independent, nationally recognized firm, the Outagamie county board debated this morning for an hour and did not act.

Central issue in the discussion seemed to be that the board also has just received a master plan for the present port and there is some question of just what a survey would cover and just when the survey should be taken.

Supvs. Mark Catlin and Douglas Evans, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the board's airport committee, objected to the move to have the board require a survey. It was their contention that a meeting with North Central and federal aviation authorities on the present port should take place before any action. More important, Catlin indicated, the committee should make the recommendation, not the full board. The committee since September has withheld any recommendation on a survey, commenting that it was awaiting the master plan.

$3,300 Offered
It is understood that various groups have offered $3,300 through the Citizens Aviation Advisory committee for the survey. Three offers of a survey have been made the airport committee — for $7,500, $8,000 and $10,000. The highest figure is the survey recommended by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce and the citizens committee.

The move to order the survey was made by supervisors not on the airport committee. There has been some sentiment on the board that the airport committee was dragging its feet on the survey and the move was said to be the result of this sentiment.

Robert Johnson, assistant to the vice president of flight operations for North Central Airlines, told the board that North Central is phasing out its DC-3s and going to faster, larger airplanes. He indicated that the airline is considering converting some of the Convairs to a type of prop-jet power plant, which would probably increase landing strip requirements.

Report, Not Plan
He termed the Foth and Porath, Green Bay, master plan more of a report and added that its conclusions on expanding the port were not surprising.

Appleton Supv. Joseph Cummings, one of those offering the move to order the survey, pointed out the Foth and Porath plan did not sur-

Eight Appeal for Independent Firm Hiring for $7,000

Eight men appeared before the Outagamie county board Monday to favor a $7,000 appropriation for a survey by an independent firm of the present airport, air travel needs and other possible airport sites.

The board took no action on the request, since it will be an addition to the budget and the budget had not been formally presented to the board.

Asking the survey were Gordon A. Bubolz, president of Home Mutual Insurance and leader of the Citizens Aviation Advisory committee; Lawrence President Dr. Douglas M. Knight; Bruce B. Purdy, representing the Appleton Chamber of Commerce; Albert Groves, a professional pilot; Kaukauna Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon; Appleton Mayor Clarence Mitchell; William Zuehlke, Jr., AAL vice president; and Robert Johnson, North Central Airlines.

Johnson told the board North Central serves 65 airports, "the best were built after a survey by an independent firm," he declared.

Mitchell said Appleton would like to know just where the airport is going to be because a school site north of Highway 41 is definitely in the future and because the present Fox river crossing of the Ballard road sewer line was built large enough to serve the airport area if a residential or industrial area develops there.

Don't Have to Spend
"We don't have to spend all this time on the airport—I've never heard about any million dollars for the airport—there's nothing before the board," said Little Chute Supv. Paul Kostka.

"We don't have to spend any million dollars, anyway. We can go to Green Bay or Oshkosh for airplanes and it won't cost the county a nickel," he added.

Mother Will Not Turn Against Accused Son

Sparta — "I won't turn against my son even though I know he has done wrong," a distraught mother sobbed to newsmen Monday after 18-year-old Garold Rheinschmidt was ordered held for trial on two counts of first degree murder in the slaying of his aunt and uncle.

Rheinschmidt's mother, 35-year-old Mrs. Louis Burrell, a divorcee, was in court with her 65-year-old mother, Mrs. Myrtle Atkins, and another son, Richard, 14. They had driven all the way from Texas to be with Garold. "Nothing can change my love for Gary," said Mrs. Burrell. "I wish I could take his place, but I know he, himself, must pay for his sins."

Have Lead in Kenosha Death

Mrs. Virginia Dore May Have Left Ignition Key on

Kenosha — Authorities said Monday knowledge of Mrs. Virginia Kraft Dore's habit of leaving the ignition key in the garage could be a significant lead in her death. Mrs. Dore, manager of the Honey Bear farm near Genoa City, was found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning in her bedroom Oct. 24, only seven weeks after her marriage. The engine of a car in a garage beneath the room was running. Sheriff Floyd Hughes, the mechanic who serviced Mrs. Dore's automobiles, told him that she often would drive into the garage, turn off the motor, then turn on the ignition again to operate electronic garage door clos-

Ruling Delayed
An official ruling in Mrs. Dore's death has been delayed pending the outcome of investigation. Ed Wavro, Kenosha county coroner, said Monday that the presence of a steaming vaporizer in Mrs. Dore's room indicated she not intend to kill herself.

Wavro said he is still waiting for a report from state crime laboratory on analysis of tissue taken from Mrs. Dore's body. Wavro said he has asked her doctor to supply him with a list of medication she purchased during the last several months.

Mrs. Dore's will was filed for probate Monday. The $50,000 estate was valued between her mother and relatives with other requests for the Salvation Army and a scholarship plan.

Elizabeth, N. H. — A deaf-mute Hungarian refugee has had to learn to speak languages in silence. W. Paul Vida, 26, first arrived in the United States, he only the Hungarian symbol of the sign language. A people here has taught him English and the American language.

Population Curb Needed, Says Toynbee

Rome — Dr. Arnold Toynbee, noted English historian, called today for a mass educational program to keep world population growth under control and mankind "free from the menace of famine."

This is necessary, "considering that there must be a maximum beyond which mankind's food supply cannot be expanded," he told the tenth biennial conference of the U.N. Food and Agriculture organization.

Toynbee said production and distribution of the world's food must be organized on the same worldwide basis as the fight against disease "if the population is to continue to be fed."

Nutrition Problem
"Millions of ignorant and prejudiced" people still eat according to ancient habits, he said; thus a campaign of mass education is needed and this "is the crux of the problem of nutrition."

"If mankind is now going to save itself from the casualties formerly inflicted upon it by pestilence and war, it is going to bring on itself the new problem of an inordinate increase in population," Toynbee said.

Efforts to reduce the death rate, said Toynbee, must be paralleled by "conscious efforts to keep the birth rate under control."

The resources of the earth, he said, "even if scientifically administered and developed and husbanded for the benefit of the whole human family, will not suffice forever to feed a population that is increasing ad infinitum."

Dragging Operations Fail to Solve Mystery

Chicago — All clues point to a drowning death for missing Judge W. Lynn Parkinson, 57, police theorize. Yet, four days of dragging operations have failed to back up the theory.

The latest exploration of the lake, in the Burnham harbor area near Meigs Field, proved fruitless Monday. The operation was launched after a boat owner reported he may have struck a body with his vessel. A 2-hour search yielded nothing.

Previous dragging operations were conducted on the South Side and at Oak St. Beach, north of Burnham harbor.

Judge Parkinson, who sits on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here, disappeared Oct. 26.
